Land of lakes needs own set of rules

Unique characteristics of Chain O' Lakes region challenge committee developing new zoning ordinance

By KENNETH PATCHEN
Staff Reporter

County Board members were looking for "smart growth" on a field trip in the middle of the Chain O' Lakes region, Monday morning.

It was cold, cloudy, and for a few moments, there was rain. The lakes were quiet and virtually barren of boats.

The trip was a chance for the Lake County Planning, Building, and Zoning Committee to examine the impact of development on natural resources in a region that is very different from other parts of Lake County.

Pamela O. Newton, chair of the committee, led the delegation of committee members, county staff personnel, township officials, people from municipalities, and journalists into the lakes and up the channels on a pontoon boat. The morning-long tour focused on Petite Lake, Fox Lake, and parts of Pistakee Lake, and Grass Lake. The group left from Port of Blarney on Grass Lake Road.

Newton said she has taken a proactive role to get the committee out of Waukegan, where it usually meets, to see development issues with county personnel who can explain what is happening and why.

Monday's trip was to show committee members the regional community of waterways and their development issues.

Newton said that flooding, shoreline erosion, water quality, hydric soils, and development-infill issues are different in this part of the county.

With the task of writing a Unified Development Ordinance before them, she said it was important for committee members to see that a uniform set of regulations may not address all the issues that exist in the county. Newton's pledge has been to become more specific with regulations and to be more protective of the county's natural resources.

District 1 representative Judy Martini said it was important for county board committee members to see the beauty of the area's natural resources. There are important development issues in this part of the county, she said, and the new Unified Development Ordinance must address them.

Martini said that some of these issues are summer cottage conversions to year-around residential use, new infill residential construction, shoreline protection, noise impacts such as from snowmobile use, and signs. Signs are a major issue, because they become navigation safety hazards when not properly maintained or built.

"We're looking for smart growth. We need to plan ahead and anticipate new homes being built and take into consideration the new homes being built and the existing homes. They all have property rights," Martini said.

Martini stressed the need to protect natural resources in the face of anticipated development.

"We have a lot of natural resources in Antioch Township, Grant Township, and Lake Villa Township. A lot of them," said Martini. She said the endangered species, waterways, and natural areas are important to the economy of the area.

Martini prepared a description of her district's development concerns and facts. She said a large percent of district open space is water. The district also contains the highest ratio of non-conforming homes in Lake County. Many cottages are used as full-time residential units. The district contains Lake County's highest amount of unsewered land. A large portion of the land currently undeveloped in the district has hydric (water holding) soil and wetlands, areas that contain the county's largest portions of natural resources, Martini said.

The waterway field trip for the committee is not new. Previously, the committee has toured Lake County in a bus to see development regulatory impacts in other areas.

"I think it went well," Martini said at the end of the tours of Fox and Grass Lake areas.

During the tour of waterway development, Newton, Martini, and many others on the boat offered commentary about shoreline features. Newton discussed the issue of lake level elevation changes and how they affect homes that are only 5 feet

Future begins Monday at Antioch High School

Speaker to urge community to help guide change in education

By KENNETH PATCHEN
Staff Reporter

Schools need to change in order to prepare students for life in the future and community residents need to be active participants in enabling that change. That is the message of Jamie Vollmer, a businessman from Iowa who will speak at the Antioch Community High School auditorium next Monday evening at 7:30 p.m.

The Sept. 29 meeting of professional educators and community residents is expected to create conversation about the future of the area's school system and about how people want to educate children.

Vollmer: As society changes, so must schools

"You have to consult the community when you make a big change because you can't touch your school without touching the culture of your community," Vollmer said.

Professional educators in the Antioch, Lake Villa, and Lindenhurst area have spent time and effort during the past few years to improve the school system through collaboration.

"(Vollmer's) function, hopefully, is to spark some interest in some ongoing conversations," said Daniel L. Burke, superintendent of Antioch Elementary Dist. 34. "Jamie Vollmer

Rotary auction, barbecue to fund scholarships and good causes

By KENNETH PATCHEN
Staff Reporter

Sports enthusiasts, travelers and those who enjoy a fine dinner away from home will walk away winners at the Antioch Rotary pork chop barbecue and auction, which will be held, Saturday, Sept. 27, at 5 p.m., at St. Peter Church's Father Hanley Hall.

The raffle winner of the 1997 Harley Davidson Sportster motorcycle will also be announced at that time.

"The money raised goes to all our donations and scholarships," said Rotary Club President-elect Kevin Lyons. He said the dinner is from 5 to 7 p.m. and the auction goes from 7 to 10 p.m. Ticket prices are $15. The funds raised carry them through the year for their community work, he said.

"Even though we do a good job, we are able to do a phenomenal job because of the support from the community," Lyons said. "Without people coming in and buying the items, we would not be so successful."

Items to buy are divided into 101 live auction and 95 silent auction bid opportunities. Of the silent auction he said, "We've only been doing that six or seven years," said Lyons.

Some of the more attention-getting bid opportunities include one week's stays in condominiums in Fort Myers, Fla. and Maui, Hawaii. There is also a chance to go to Dallas for a stay.

There is an opportunity to be a page on the floor of the Illinois House of Representatives.

For those who are sports enthusiasts, donated items from Raymont Harris, Brett Favre, and Reggie White will be on the block.

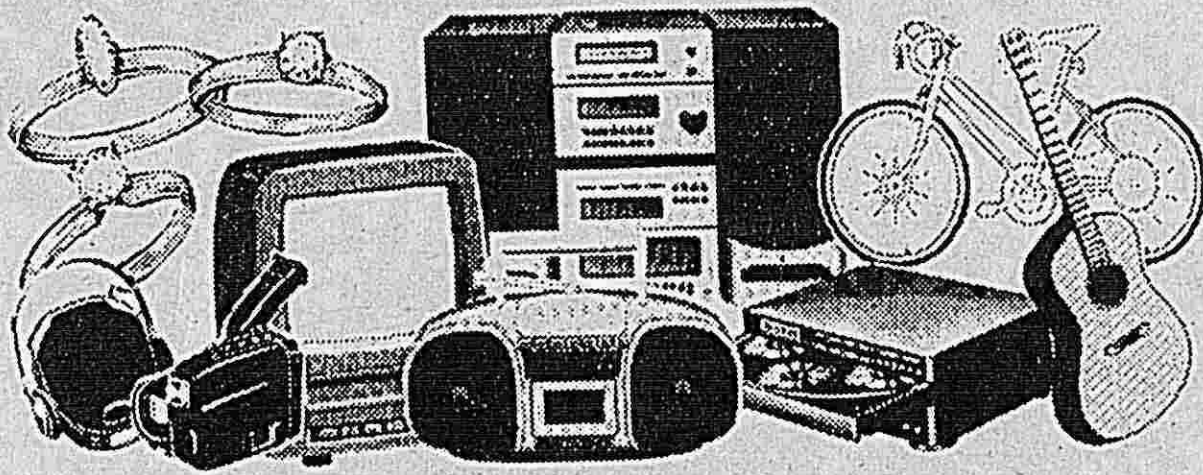

One of the most popular bid items is dinner packages. A lobster dinner, German dinner, Swedish dinner, and a Titanic dinner for eight will be up for bids. Tickets to special events will also be auctioned.

"We'll have things that go from $20 bids to $2,300," Lyons said. "It's not all big dollar items."

LAND: Chain O'Lakes needs its own set of zoning regulations above the base flood elevation. She noted how important water quality is for the region, as an economic development issue, given the amount of tourism in the area.

One aspect of redevelopment and septic field issues was used by Martini to illustrate how a regulation can affect what people do with their property and how it undermines the intent of the protective legislation. She said that some people build huge, one-bedroom homes because they do not have a big enough site for septic fields for multiple bedroom requirements. In order to obtain a construction permit, they build a huge home but only with one bedroom.

Robert Striecher, director of the building and zoning division, pointed out it would be important to be sensitive to the rights and needs of people who live there in existing development. If regulations are drawn too restrictively, people stop maintaining their homes and property and that creates new problems and enforcement issues.

FUTURE: Begins with speaker who urges community involvement provides a focus and that's what we can begin our discussion or dialogue around."

Dennis Hockney, superintendent of Antioch Community High School said, "For long lasting improvements to take place in any organization, the people who are going to be involved in carrying out those improvements have to be a part of the decision-making process."

The speech by Vollmer is one point of access for the parents, business people, students, and educators of the area to be a part of that process.

"I'm not an educator," said Vollmer as he discussed his upcoming visit to Antioch. "I've been a business person."

He admits that many years ago he held somewhat stereotypical views of schools and the people within them. "I knew nothing about (education)," he said. But, he was appointed to panels in Iowa and he studied education. He emerged from those studies with ideas about schools and teachers that he did not expect to have. In his talks in communities across America, he reveals what he sees in society and how education does and does not relate to it.

Hockney has said, "As the needs of society change, the schools too must change. It doesn't mean that schools will no longer emphasize reading, writing, and mathematics as well as science, social studies and languages. It does, however, mean that there is more that we need to do."

Vollmer does speak directly with his views. He said, "Your schools are doing a better job than they ever have in Antioch in preparing the kids to succeed in the world of 1950. This is not the fault of the educators. This is what America has asked them to do."

Vollmer said, "What everybody thinks is real school is what they went to; and, when your educators go to make a big change, the community has a fit. It's the community that holds the status quo in place, not the educators."

It is an ambitious evening of ideas strongly supported by area educators. Pat Dieveny, Principal at St. Peters School in Antioch said she had been part of the planning process which led to the invitation to Vollmer. She said she appreciates efforts by local educators to address the needs of schools in the future.

Matt Tabar, superintendent of Emmons Elementary School District 33 said, "Those of us in the educational profession are aware that the way we view schools and educational process is changing. The families and communities we serve may not be as aware of what is causing the changes in the education we provide to children. This often creates differences of opinion about what is done and how it is done. ... We hope to heighten awareness of the educational change process."

Jim Beveridge, superintendent of Grass Lake Elementary School District 36, said, "It's good to hear from a business person who believes in the value of public education and who further believes decisions about public education should be made by people in local communities."

ROTARY: Auction, barbecue to fund scholarships and good causes

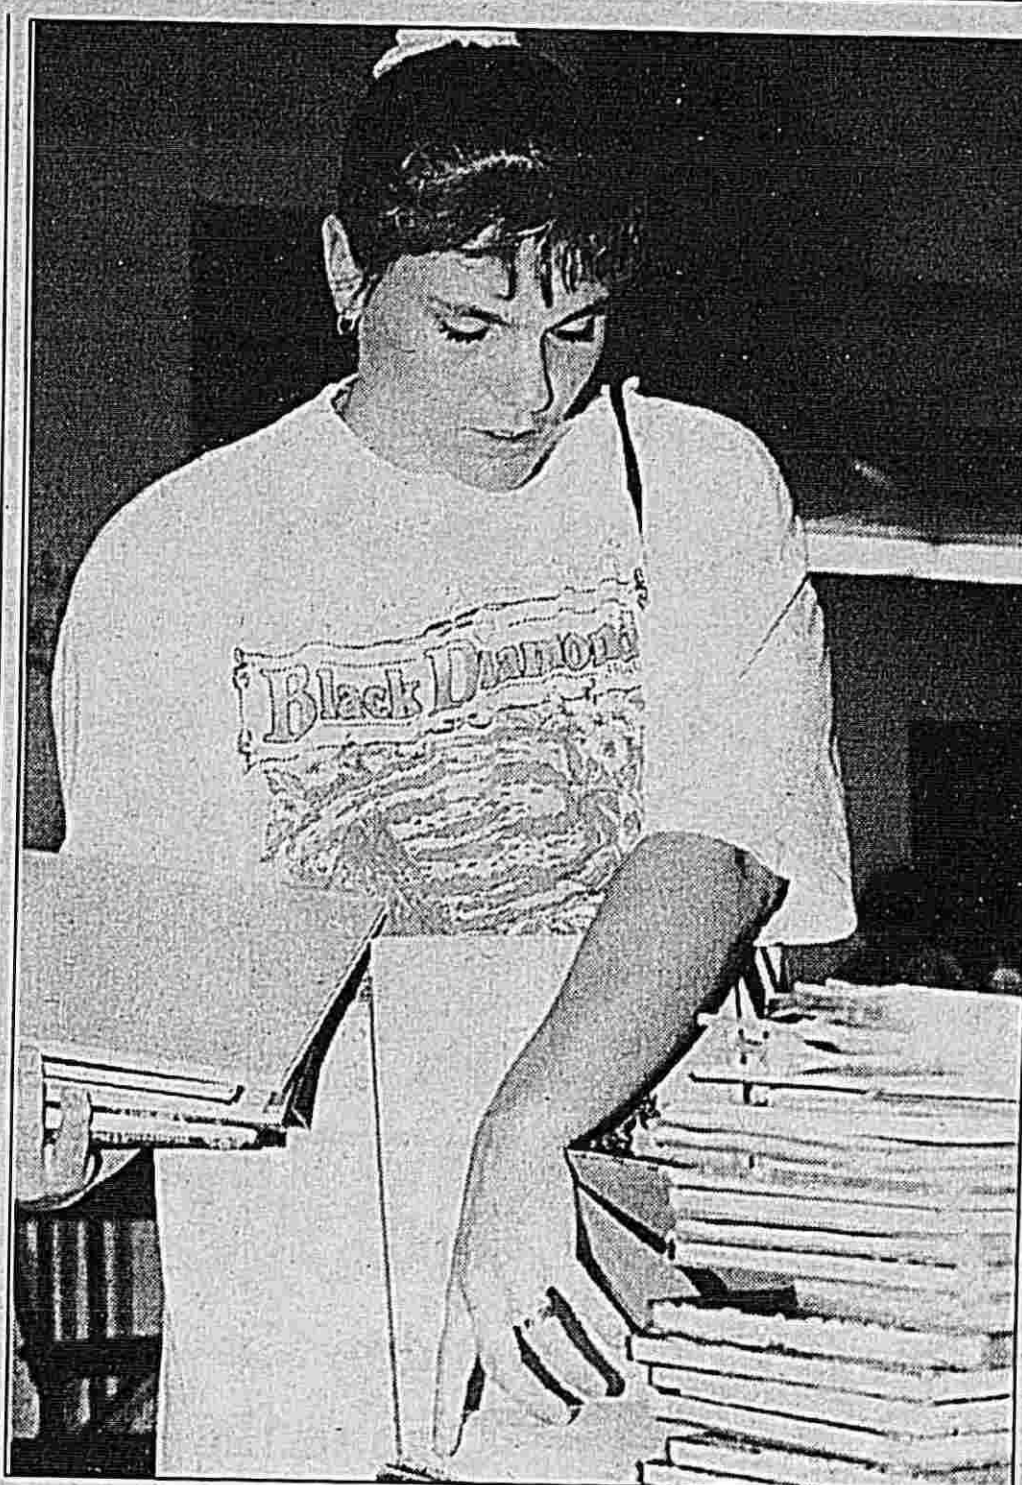

Rotarians have sold 400 tickets for a chance to win a Harley-Davidson Sportster. The tickets are sold out and the winner is to be selected that evening. There will also be motorcycle associated items and clothing at the auction.

One of the more entertaining aspects of the event, according to Lyons, is to watch the pork chops being prepared for the meal for the evening.

Cooks barbecue 1,250 chops on special racks. "Just to watch 'em is phenomenal," said Lyons. They prepare 550 dinners for those at the event and they package 150 chops in containers for people who want to take them with them. Not everyone who pays, stays. The dinner includes two pork chops, baked beans, cole slaw, a dinner role, and an ice-cream cup. There are drinks.

"They won't give us the recipe. For years we have asked for it, and they won't give it to us" said Lyons. Lyons said that it is the special seasoning that makes them so consistently tasty. The same family business has provided the pork chop barbecue since the event was established.

Dam lockmaster vows lake levels not lowered

By KENNETH PATCHEN
Staff Reporter

Lock master Frank Novak, at the William G. Stratton Lock and Dam, said the Chain O' Lakes water levels were not being lowered as suggested by the recent repair experience of some marina owners.

"As far as we know, they have not been letting the lake levels down," said Ingrid R. Enriquez, director of the Fox Waterway Agency.

However, John Bieschke of Spiro's East Marina said, that in a recent two-week period, they were getting boats with damage to the bottom of the boat. "We haven't had any all year long," he said.

"The water levels in the northern area are one foot lower now than they have been all summer," Bieschke said. Lake Marie is 12 inches lower he said. This suggested to him that levels were being lowered.

Novak said that water levels in the system are where they should be, within a range of three inches of their target level. Lake elevations may be three inches higher or three inches lower of the height they try to maintain through the recreation season.

"Actually, it's a little bit on the high side," he said of lake water levels in the last full week of September. Rainfall during the preceding several days, he said, had brought measurements in the six gauges he monitors towards the high end of his target range.

Winter drawdown occurs after Nov. 1. The target date for completion of lowering the Chain of Lakes water elevation by 18 inches is Dec. 1. It is a gradual process at first. "The last week is twice as fast a drawdown as was the first week," Novak said.

Grass Lake Road, Rte. 59 improvements slated for 1999

By KENNETH PATCHEN
Staff Reporter

Improvements to the Grass Lake Road and Route 59 intersection have a 1999 target date for completion, according to state and county officials at a recent public meeting. Impatience among local political leaders to get the project done is evident, however.

"The meeting was wonderful," said District 1 County Board Representative Judy Martini. "The public got the information they needed."

"I'm happy it's working smoothly," said state Rep. Robert Churchill. "I've been working on this for three years," he said after the meeting had been held.

"I'd like to see construction being done today. I'm glad it's in process. This is not a process that occurs over night," Churchill said.

Martini said about 70 people attended the meeting she hosted. She has sent a summary of 30 questions that were asked at the meeting to area legislators Churchill, state Sen. Adeline Geo-Karis, and County Sheriff Gary Del Re to solicit further information about the project. "If nothing, the meeting brought up the issues that should be addressed," she said.

Churchill said the construction of a new intersection is complex. The traffic counts, engineering studies, design plans, land acquisition, and bid process all take time.

"Sometimes this takes one-and-a-half to three years," he said. Land acquisition can be time consuming he said. "The next step is land acquisition."

Sheriff Del Re has increased enforcement of shoulder driving prohibitions. In two weeks, officers made 21 stops for that activity he had told the public meeting.

Antioch Community High School has a National Merit Scholarship semi-finalist in the student body, Martha M. Traugott. She is one of approximately 15,000 academically talented seniors competing for 7,400 Merit Scholarship awards. She will find out how she did in the Spring. She entered the 1998 Merit Program by taking the 1996 Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude/National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test. People with the highest test scores in each state are designated semi-finalists. This is less than one percent of the state's high school graduating class.

British native appreciates compassion

Antioch residents have been able to offer sympathy to one community resident over the death of Diana, Princess of Wales. "I was so moved by people showing compassion for Princess Di," said Shirley Zientek of The Gift Basket. She has followed the funeral coverage and subsequent stories closely because of her own British heritage.

"It's very sad," she said. Antioch residents, upon hearing her speak and recognizing her British accent, have said, "I was sorry to hear about your Princess," Zientek said. "People I didn't even know, they'd hear my accent, and we'd start talking."

She has very much appreciated the kindness of these strangers and friends who have also felt the impact of Princess Diana's death. Zientek said that after talking with her relatives in Britain, she is of the opinion that the British people do not fully comprehend how popular Princess Diana was throughout the world. The British coverage of the funeral did not fully communicate how concerned people were about her death. Zientek felt much less alone with her feelings because of how the people in Antioch responded to her.

Fifth- and sixth-graders will participate in a Bank at School Program sponsored by District 33 in cooperation with State Bank of the Lakes and the Illinois State Treasurer. Eric B. Olson, the bank's marketing manager, said, "We are a community bank, so teaching the children about saving is important."

The program was created to help teachers introduce students to basic money management concepts. There are lesson plans for teachers to use to teach about why people save money, managing credit, and budgets. At Emmons, teachers involved in the program are: Mrs. Cynthia Thielen, Mrs. Michelle Gates, and Mrs. Cheryl McCameron.

Millburn School was the first bank in the area to work with State Bank of the Lakes on the program. Fifth-grade teacher Mrs. Janet Schwartz works with her students on the program. This will be its seventh year at Millburn.

ACHS dance team to hold camp

By KENNETH PATCHEN
Staff Reporter

Antioch Community High School dance team will sponsor a multiple-age dance camp at the high school on Monday, Oct. 13.

The training sessions for interested students will occur all day, Columbus Day, when school is not in session. There is a regular dance camp option and an extended session option.

The camp is a fund-raising event to help the ACHS dance team earn money for trips to New York City and Disneyworld in Florida. The ACHS dance team qualified for further training and performance opportunities during their recent summer competitions at camps with other school dance teams.

The ACHS dance team has held previous training sessions for interested people.

"We have one (dance camp) every summer, but this is the first one in the fall," said dance team Coach Joy Edge. "If we get a good turn out, as we have for the summer sessions, we may do it again."

The ACHS varsity pom pon squad is evolving into an athletic dance team. The term dance team, according to Edge, better describes the types of routines they perform and the skill requirements for membership on the team. As a rule, dance team events occur during half-time of basketball and football games.

ACHS dance team members at the Columbus Day camp will work with children in four groups. There are groups for 4 to 6 year olds, 7 to 9, 10 to 12, and 13 years and older. The training teaches techniques, jumps, turns, and some basic dance steps. Edge said the students attending dance camp will learn a finished routine that they will perform at an ACHS home football or basketball game. Students at the sessions also can develop skills for high school dance team competition or for people who wish to be cheerleaders.

Edge is a teacher at ACHS and a coach for the school's dance team. She teaches world history and government courses.

The camp is from 8:30 a.m. to 3 p.m. and costs $30. The early-drop-off and late pick-up option covers the period from 7:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. That will be $10 additional. Students at the extended sessions receive additional training and coaching.

Registration forms are available at local schools. Additional information is available at 395-1421, extensions 902 or 834.

German Americans hold Oktoberfest

The German American Club of Antioch sponsors its Annual Oktoberfest at the VFW Hall Saturday, Sept. 27, from 7 p.m. to the end of the evening. The show starts at 8 p.m. The Austrian Trio Grande will perform. There is music and dancing. There is a $7 donation.

Valuable raffle prizes will be awarded. There is a Grandfather Clock by Chicago Clock, cash prizes, and other merchandise.

Tickets are available at the Wunder-Bar Restaurant, Hofmanns Barber Shop, from members of the club, and D. Jordahl at 847-356-5484.

The VFW Hall is on North Avenue a quarter-mile west of Route 83.

Volunteers pitch in to ensure fishing success for future generations on the Chain

By JEFF PATERSON
Staff Reporter

Fourteen volunteers gathered at the Spring Grove Fisheries Resource Center for a special annual event. It was brandin' time.

Using marking bars chilled with liquid nitrogen to a temperature of 195 degrees below zero Celsius, area residents concerned about the future of fishing on the Chain O' Lakes painlessly branded more than 50,000 5-inch Large Mouth Bass fingerlings.

Although a 3-year-old bass can lay 100,000 eggs in a season, roughly half of the hatchlings are eaten by other fish and do not even reach fingerling size. By providing a protected environment, the hatchery gives hatchlings an even chance of reaching adulthood upon release into the Chain and reproducing.

In his 20 years as Center Manager, Dick Corey has never failed to be impressed by the volunteer response to this and other fishery programs.

"We have a lot of volunteers that come in and help us out — fishing organizations and individuals — who are interested in improving the fishing in the Chain."

Whether it is assisting with the stocking of bass, walleye, bluegills or other species, Corey always has more volunteers than the Center's small building has room for.

"Whenever it comes time for something here to happen, the phone here will ring non-stop," he said. "We always have a lot of support, which really makes me feel good."

That public support is also very necessary for the Center to maintain its program levels, because Corey is its only full-time employee. Without the volunteers, Corey estimated that it would have taken "four or five days" to complete branding.

"It's about giving something back," said Clem Haley, who has been a volunteer for 15 years and is a member of the Northern Illinois Conservation Club for 25. Haley, whose family owns Blarney's Island, viewed assisting with the stocking programs as helping to maintain parallel environmental and economic interests.

"In the 1970s, the fishing was terrible, and one of the reasons was that there were not enough predator fish," Haley said. "Now they have a bass tournament every weekend and 100 bass are pulled from the lake, which is good for the anglers and for local businesses, because these people buy gas and food here."

"It's not just economic, though," he adds. "It's restoring balance to the food chains so the fisheries will be here for future generations. It's like planting a tree; you won't see it full-grown, but your grandchildren will."

In the case of bass-branding, the volunteers are helping the Illinois Department of Natural Resources to monitor the level of success IDNR is having in boosting bass levels throughout the Chain.

"This is the fifth year for our stocking program, and so far, we have found that it has had a significant contribution to the density of large mouth bass on the Chain of Lakes," said District Fisheries Biologist Joe Ferencak.

Ferencak noted that the program had begun in response to declining populations due to the introduction of Yellow Bass into the lake system in the early-to-mid 1970s.

He explained the prolific nature of the new species had formed strong competition for the Large Mouth Bass for food and habitat. He added, however, that with major Yellow Bass die-outs due to over population, the Spring Grove walleye predator stocking program, as well as the fingerling stocking programs, the Large Mouth Bass is making a strong comeback.

"It's working well and the volunteers have been a big part of that," he said.

Ryan to be featured at Antioch Republican Club

By KENNETH PATCHEN
Staff Reporter

George H. Ryan, Illinois Secretary of State, will speak at the Thursday, Oct. 9 Antioch Township Republican Club Annual Fund-raiser Dinner.

The fund-raising dinner will be at Maravala's Banquet on Washington Street in Fox Lake with cocktails available at 6 p.m. and dinner served at 7 p.m. Tickets are $25 with a cash bar.

Ryan was elected to his second term as Secretary of State in November, 1994. Educated as a pharmacist, the Kankakee resident has served in government since 1973 as a legislator, lieutenant governor, House Republican leader, and speaker of the house.

Ryan is considered to have broken new ground on the issue of drunk driving, the prevention of violence in society, support for adult literacy, increasing awareness of the need for organ donors, and the use of technology in libraries and government.

Ryan is also the State Librarian and in that capacity has been a supporter for alternative sources of library funding which resulted in $19 million of annual financing for high technology library services, materials, and library construction and renovation.

Ryan proposed and passed legislation to lower the blood alcohol level that defines drunk driving from .10 to .08 percent. It is estimated by traffic experts that the change will save 60 lives a year.

He created the Illinois Gateway internet home page.

Tickets for the Antioch Township Republican Club should be reserved for pick-up at the door by calling 847-395-1872. Although tickets may be available at the door, advanced reservations are recommended.

Fifth annual bike-a-thon to raise cancer funds

By KENNETH PATCHEN
Staff Reporter

Registration for the 5th Annual Northwest Lake Area Bike-A-Thon is at 9 a.m. on Sunday, Sept. 28, in Centennial Park in Antioch.

It is a recreational ride on one of two routes, one 5 miles long and the other 10 miles. The ride goes on regardless of weather conditions. Bicycle riders will be sponsored by people who have pledged funds that are given to the American Cancer Society.

The Antioch Jaycees provide the local leadership and people who help manage the race.

The charity event was established in 1995 to honor the memory of Bill Brook, an Antioch resident who died of cancer. He retired in 1986 as president of the State Bank of Antioch, founded by his grandfather Edward Brook. He believed strongly in active community service.

Participants in the bike-a-thon are eligible for prizes. The types of prize eligibility depends on the pledged amount for which they are riding. The prizes include: an official bike-a-thon T-shirt, binoculars or Mickey Mouse dress watch, 5-inch black and white portable television or fishing gear, and a 15-speed mountain bike or compact disc stereophonic boombox.

Riders may also ride in memory of a friend or family member as a Pathfinder. A Pathfinder is the sign used to mark the route bicycles must follow. The cost is $25 for each pathfinder sign which will include the name of the honored person as well as the name of the donor. It is not necessary to participate in the ride in order to purchase a Pathfinder memorial sign.

The ride begins and ends at Centennial Park. It follows a designated route through Antioch neighborhoods. Refreshments and assistance are available at checkpoints.

The Antioch Jaycees is composed of men and women who are 21 to 40 years of age. In Antioch for 30 years, the organization undertakes many community events through the year. These include a Santa Phone, Operation Fingerprint, and fulfillment of Christmas Wishes. They also sponsor a yearly bowl-a-thon to raise money to sponsor local children at Camp New Hope, a resort for physically and mentally challenged children.

ACHS holds Peddler's Craft Fair, Oct. 4

The Antioch Community High School Student Assistant Program presents its sixth Annual Peddler's Alley Craft Fair Saturday, Oct. 4, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

"I think this will be one of the biggest ones," said Georgia Kilman, one of the organizers for publicity on the event. "We've attracted probably over 50 crafters." Only 40 crafters were expected a few weeks before the event.

"We're going to be in the Commons and in the Annex," she said. There will be signs in the building to direct people to the Commons and Annex area, near the gymnasium.

She attributes the strong response to the show by crafters in part to the reputation of the show. "People want to do crafts," she also said. There are all types of crafts for sale from woodcrafts to paintings. "It's a wide variety."

Food will be available at the fair. There is a bake sale.

Each crafter will contribute an item to be raffled during the course of the seven-hour event. People need not be present to win.

A month of birthday celebrations

It's time to take a moment in our busy days and wish all of those boys and girls and moms and dads out there who celebrated their birthdays this month a happy, happy. Among those celebrating this month was none other than the "Old Retired Lizard." She recently informed me as to how flattered she was with all the parties that were thrown in her honor. It seems her old line dancin' buddies threw a shindig for her one night and her beloved family members to together and belted out their version of "Happy Birthday," and lastly, her fellow staff members and co-workers at Camp Crayon treated her to a big cake and all the attached hoop-la that make birthdays so darn exciting.

Now Miss Liz was quite concerned that with having three separate parties that might mean she would have to add three more years onto her already increasing age. To which we ponder: what difference does it make if one is older than dirt or three years older than dirt?

Well, to all those other special folks out there who celebrated their big day this month—"Happy Birthday:" Kari Anderson, Amy Dembinski, Carrie Dunfrund, Laura Edelman, Neil Hansen, Jenny Harris, Kathy Harris, Blake Harrison, Jessica Lehmann, Lauren

JINGLE FROM PRINGLE

Lynn Pringle

Lichter, Bradley Lindstrom, Wayne Olsen Sr., Marian Rohde, Liz Schmehl, Phil Smerz, Nicholas Staten and Kaite Turner.

A retirement celebration

Another milestone that was reached this month was the retirement of Betty Letkey from the position she has held at the St. Peter Parish Rectory for the last 25 years. Betty was feted at a gala event on a recent Sunday afternoon. The festivities included a little music, some fond farewells and a really big cake. Betty is now off to her retirement nest out in Iowa.

Most people when they retire head to Florida or Arizona. Well, anybody who knows Betty knows she definitely dances to her own little drummer and that's the reason she is heading out to live among the corn fields and pig farmers instead of traveling to one of the more popular sun belts. She hates hot weather, she doesn't golf and just thinking about driving on roads full of hearing-impaired, tri-focaled, stiff necked senior citizens makes her want to flush her driver's license down the nearest commode.

Now, it is quite possible though, that she may trade her dependable mode of transportation (i.e. her sensible car) in for one of these new fancy, fandangled, souped-up John Deere all terrain vehicles (i.e. a big green tractor) but what can one expect when moving to a state that gets more snow than the north pole and is located in the dead center of "Tornado Alley?" Our best wishes are with you Betty as you venture down this new path in your road. Just remember with all those farms out there to stay away from moving combine's, be careful when passing those humongous tractors clogging up the one and only road leading into town, and for your own sake watch where you are stepping when walking threw the meadows.

And so goes another "Jingle From Pringle."

Readers with information for "Jingle from Pringle" should call Lynn Pringle at 395-6364.

ACHS Homecoming includes 'huge parade' football and fun activities

By KENNETH PATCHEN
Staff Reporter

Antioch Community High School homecoming events unfold with a combination of events.

The primary public events include the Friday evening pep rally at 7:30 p.m. which includes the crowning of the King and Queen candidates. The homecoming parade at 10 a.m. on Saturday is a feast of floats, music, marching alumni and school students. Although there are numerous sports events during homecoming week, most attention is traditionally focused on Saturday's 1 p.m. football game, this year played with Warren Township High School. Earlier, at 11 a.m., the Sophomore football game with Warren Township High School will be played on the home field.

Major school events that are limited to the students and school community are the homecoming pep assembly on Friday from 2:10 to 3:05 p.m. in the North gymnasium and the homecoming dance Saturday night at 7:30 p.m.

Homecoming events are sponsored by the ACHS Student Council with the assistance of faculty sponsors Anita Reiche and Sally Kutsor.

The homecoming parade is a major event. "It's huge," said Mick Torres of the school. By the time the initial units in the parade are through town, the final part of the parade is leaving the school parking lot. There are between 115 and 120 parade units this year said Torres.

Torres offered to take class reunion groups on tours of the high school after the parade. "Any reunion group back in town who wants a tour (of the high school) following the parade should contact me as soon as possible at 395-1421, extension 238," Torres said.

The following events take place on Thursday, Sept. 25: 4 p.m. A.C.E. powder puff football;

4:30 p.m. boys golf- Mundelein (home); 4:30 p.m. boys basketball- Zion-Benton (away); 4:30 p.m. girls field hockey-Deerfield (home); and, 4:30 p.m. girls tennis-Lake Forest (home).

On Friday, Sept. 26, the following events occur: 2:10 to 3:05 p.m. homecoming pep assembly (North gymnasium); 5 p.m. girls volleyball- Warren (away); and 7:30-10:30 p.m. homecoming madness (both gymnasiums).

On Saturday, Sept. 27, the following events occur: boys golf all day at the Lake Forest Invitational (away); 9 a.m. girls golf-Barrington (away); 9 a.m. girls tennis-McHenry (away); 9 a.m. girls volleyball-Warren (away); 9 a.m. morning cross country-Hersey Invitational (away); 10 a.m. Antioch Community Parade; 11 a.m. Sophomore football against Warren Township High School (home); 1 p.m. Home football game against Warren Township High School; and, 8 p.m. homecoming dance.

Conference football races heat up

Last weekend saw some big local football matchups which helped to separate the good teams from the mediocre teams from the not-so-good teams—and the conferences are starting to take shape:

Stevenson hosted Antioch on its Homecoming night, and the Lincolnshire site was less than friendly for the Sequoits, who fell 41-0 to the Pats. Antioch was playing without its all-everything quarterback Dave Gooch, who is out for the season, and all-conference running back Brandon Polheber. Stevenson now sits atop the NSC with a 4-0 record, 2-0 in conference play.

Warren topped Mundelein 14-0, giving the Mustangs their first conference loss as the Blue Devils got their first win of the Dave Mohr era.

Round Lake beat Wauconda 25-12 in a battle of independents. The Panthers led 7-6 entering the fourth quarter, then scored 18 unanswered points to run away with the win.

Libertyville held on against Zion-Benton in a 28-22 squeaker, which saw the Zee-Bees score 15 points in the fourth but fall short. The win keeps Libertyville close behind Stevenson in the NSC.

This week's big matchup: Libertyville (3-1, 2-0) at Mundelein (2-2, 1-1).

Remember, Lakeland's Charity Softball Game against WXLG/WKRS is set for this Sunday, Sept. 28 from 6-8 p.m. at Softball City. The event benefits the Rathunde family of Round Lake and their 10-month-old daughter, Holly, who was born premature. Please see the story by Rhonda Burke about the Rathundes on page one of our Lakeland section for a more detailed description of their situation and our fund-raiser.

For more information, or to buy tickets, please contact Corky Gross at 223-8161 (ext. 174), or Vince Saputo at ext. 113.

ACHS to regroup for Blue Devils

Patriots trounce Sequoits 41-0 at SHS Homecoming

By STEVE PETERSON
Staff Reporter

Football fans attending the Warren-Antioch Homecoming clash Sept. 27 may do well to keep an eye out for No. 8 of Antioch.

He is linebacker Reggie Hughes Jr., whose contributions have inspired the defense in the first four clashes.

"He is the guy taking charge on defense. When good things happen, they tend to do so around him," said ACHS defensive coach Mike Gordy.

Hughes had a seven tackle, two assist 1.5 sack and fumble recovery and TD in a 21-15 overtime loss to Zion-Benton. He and the other defenders had an off day against Stevenson in terms of tackles, but contributed long punts.

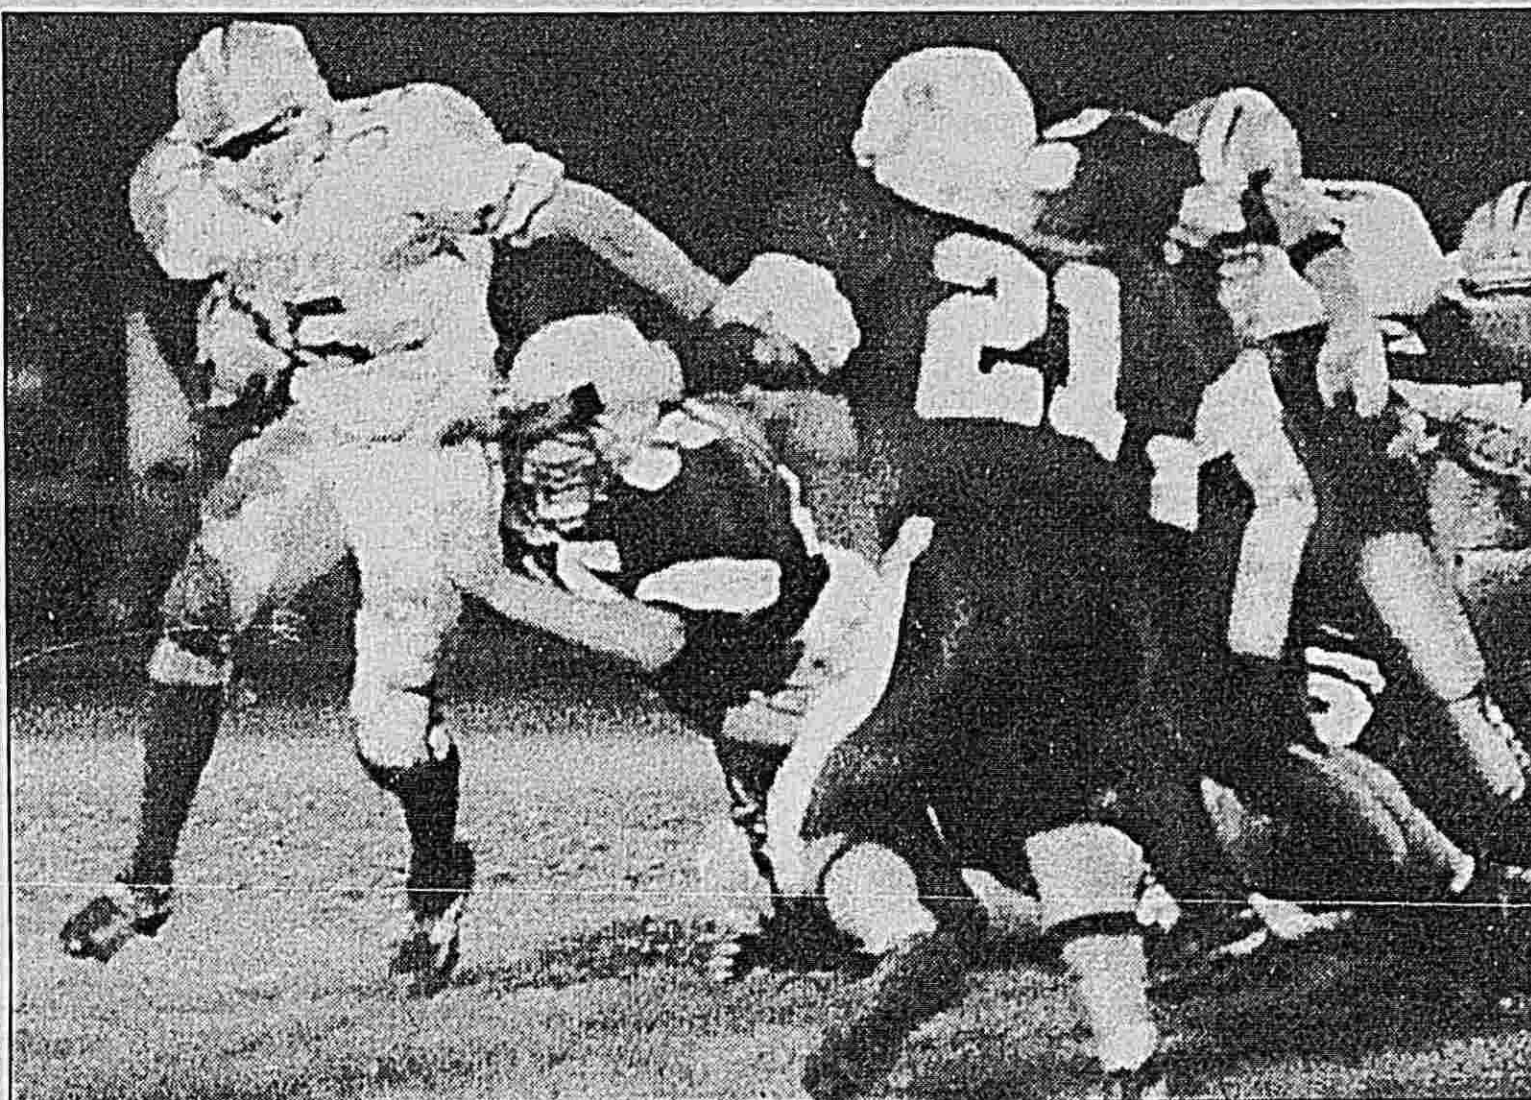

"The whole defense did not play well against Stevenson (a 41-0 loss). Sometimes it looked like we did not know what we were doing. SHS had a sustained drive to start the game, then scored from 70 yards out. We got frustrated," said Gordy.

Jeff Ultes and Dan Pendergast, with the exception of the Patriots game, have had good first halves of the season. Ultes had six solos and three assists against Zion. Pendergast, who lines up with Hughes at linebacker, had eight tackles and seven assists and five stops on the punt and kickoff return teams against Zion.

"Pendergast is a junior who plays like a senior," said Gordy.

Antioch High's quarterback situation went from bad to worse as another signal caller was felled by injury against powerful Stevenson.

In the beginning, it was pre-season QB Dave Gooch. As the Patriots were in the early stages of a 41-0 romp, Don Lackey was injured and forced out of the game. Karl Richter took over. Lackey suffered a concussion, but is expected back for the Warren clash at 1 p.m.

It was a tough night for the ACHS offense, but one bright spot was junior Gary Spiller's rushing.

Lackey, the sophomore had been a safety before Gooch's injury. Richter started the year penciled in as a linebacker.

But next is Warren at the ACHS Homecoming and the combination of the festivities and a spirited rival should make for an interesting afternoon. Warren comes into the Sept. 27 clash off its first win. ACHS is 2-2, 0-2 in the NSC.

The game features the former

Warren coach, Reggie Hughes, on the same sideline with his son, an ACHS linebacker. He is also the punter, averaging 30 yards a kick against Stevenson.

The ACHS defense will be trying to stop Chris Thomas, who scored one of two Warren TDs. They hope to do a better job than the result against Stevenson's Joe Marth. Marth rambled for TD runs of one, 67 and 57 yards on a 195 yard night. John Dervishian added 86 yards and a touchdown.

"He has done well the first three games he has over 100 yards. He is emerging. Against Antioch, we only started one person both ways and that helps. Joe can hit the hole as quick as anyone," said Stevenson coach Bill Mitz of Marth.

Warren had some razzle-dazzle going for it at its Homecoming win. A halfback pass from Jose Santiago to Jake Hanson sealed the deal against Mundelein.

"Warren will lull you to sleep with traps then go to the outside zone. They are so diverse and can throw the ball. Mike Brandow (Warren QB) kind of reminds me of Jim McMahon the way he sells fakes then the play action opens up," said Gordy.

Scheduling note: ACHS plays its remaining five games on Saturdays. They are 2-0 in the afternoons, 0-2 at night.

ACHS linksters continue strong play

The Antioch boys golf team hosted the Grant Bulldogs at the Antioch Golf Club last week and posted an excellent score of 159 led by senior medalist Mike Nielsen, who shot a one over par 36. Grant shot a team score of 174.

The next day the Sequoits traveled to McHenry Country Club to play McHenry high. Antioch scored a 167 as a team to edge out McHenry by three strokes. The Sequoits were led by John Logan, a sophomore, who shot a 39 and was match medalist. The Sequoits finished their non-conference season with a 5-0 unbeaten record.

Last Thursday the boys hosted

Lake Forest at Spring Valley Golf Course, but the team's 164 wasn't good enough to beat the 154 of Lake Forest. Lake Forest's Sean Rotolo was the medalist with an even par 35. Antioch's best rounds came from Logan, with a 38, and Nielsen, who added a 39. The sophomore Sequoits posted a score of 178, their lowest of the season. Leading the sophomores was Tim Jankowski and Brad Groth, who each shot 43.

Coming up on the schedule for Antioch is Mundelein, to face the Sequoits at Spring Valley Thursday. Saturday the boys travel to Lake Bluff to compete in the McDermid Invitational. Antioch tee times begin at 11:15 a.m.

ACHS netters face tough times

Antioch High's girls tennis team has fallen on some difficult times.

After finishing fourth a their won quad, the Sequoits could not manage more than three games won in a match against Stevenson. The loss evened the North Suburban Conference record at 1-1.

Malini Chinapalli beat Mandy Hughes at number one singles for SHS, 6-0, 6-1.

Jenny Rogers lost to Jen Jelik, 6-2, 6-1.

At doubles, Jessica Mayer and Shayne Jacobsen lost to Laura Wagner and Carrie Christopher 6-0, 6t-2.

At second doubles, Erika Johnson and Carina Hauenstein lost to Laura Uzzel and Genie Kim 6-0, 6-1.

At third doubles, Anne Marie Geer and Tiffany Kapsalis lost to Shana Seidenburg and Lauren Grossman 6-0, 6-0.

ACHS did record some wins at its quad in doubles.

Erin Boodey and Mayer downed Meghan Fidler and Amanda Marunde of Johnsburg 6-3, 7-6 (7-4), 7-5.

Johnson and Jacobsen downed Lindsay Hahan and Maggie Dohrn 4-6, 6-2, 6-2.

ACHS's squad 3-3 overall in duals, is at Lake Forest Sept. 25 and at a McHenry tourney Sept. 27.

Antioch golfers set record

Establishing a new school dual meet record, the Antioch High girls golf team looked to continue that momentum in dual and tourney play.

The Sequoits had some good individual efforts, but lost to Libertyville by one stroke and finished in the middle-of-the-pack at their own tournament.

ACHS's 191 beat the old record by five strokes in play against Deerfield and Buffalo Grove.

"They all came in afterward and said there is still room for improvement. They pointed to 12 strokes as points where they could have done something different," said ACHS coach Steve Wapon.

Veronica Pazanin led the historic effort with a 45. Sara Groh was right behind with a 46. Kristin Hungarland and Abby Clark each carded 50s.

The Lindenhurst Dynamo team started the regular season traveling schedule with an away game against the Bloomingdale Lightning.

The game started off very slow with both teams having a hard time moving the soccer ball toward their goal. But late into the first quarter Brett McKenzie passed the ball to the center of the penalty box and Sean Hertz nailed it into the left corner of the goal for the first score of the game. Aaron Nichols followed with a breakaway and blew right by the Bloomingdale defense for the second score of the game.

The Bloomingdale offense scored three fast goals and the halftime score was 3-2. The Dynamo knew they had their work cut out for them. The Lindenhurst defense made up of Matthew Reimer, John Werchek, and Peter Niles held the Bloomingdale team to zero goals the third and fourth quarter and the Dynamo beat the Bloomingdale Lightning by the score of 6 to 3. Tiny Miracle

Little Holly is silver lining in Round Lake Beach family's year of challenge

Lynn Rathunde can't wait to celebrate New Year's Eve this year. Lynn won't only be saying farewell to a year of challenge for the six-member family, a year in which five members have faced major medical problems and her husband lost his job; she will be celebrating a year of blessings and miracles. The biggest miracle, tiny 10-month old Holly who greeted the world three months early.

The Rathundes, of Round Lake Beach, were high school sweethearts at Grayslake High School. Don graduated in 1977 and Lynn in 1979. Today, they have four children, Becky, 16; Jon, 14; Zackary, 23 months and Holly, 10 months.

Near the end of 1996, when Lynn was pregnant with her fourth child, husband Don lost his job due to corporate downsizing. Knowing their insurance benefits were limited was a worry of the family, but they were making COBRA payments at the time and Lynn's pregnancy was progressing routinely.

But, when Holly decided to greet the family three months early, Nov. 18, at just 3 pounds and 5 ounces, it was the beginning of a long road of personal challenge for Lynn and Don, and all four of their children.

Despite a year in which many people would be at their wits end, the Rathundes wake-up each morning, thanking God for their blessings.

"You can't dwell on the negative," said Lynn. "I have a house full of happy faces."

Lynn and Don also have a house full of medical bills.

Holly spent more than six weeks in an Evanston hospital after birth due to her prematurity. She was diagnosed with a heart murmur at birth.

Two weeks after Holly was born, Lynn was admitted to the hospital in Lake Forest with blood clots in her legs which were threatening to go to her lungs.

Those first few weeks were really tough on the family.

"Don was on the road constantly traveling between the two hospitals," Lynn said. "I was trying to pump breast milk for Holly because of her prematurity and Don was doing his best to get the fresh milk to her in addition to having to care for the other children at home."

Soon Lynn's condition stabilized and she was back home. On Dec. 27th, Lynn's birthday, Holly came home for the first time—tiny but making progress.

In March, pediatricians told the Rathundes the heart murmur Holly had been diagnosed with at birth was not closing as they had anticipated. They sent Holly to see a cardiologist who diagnosed Holly was suffering from a condition known as pulmonary stenosis, which is a Tiny Holly Rathunde was born three months premature and suffers from a heart condition known as pulmonary stenosis. A benefit "Homeruns for Holly" will be held at Softball City, Sunday, Sept. 28 to raise funds to help the family with her medical costs.

Homeruns for Holly will raise money to aid family

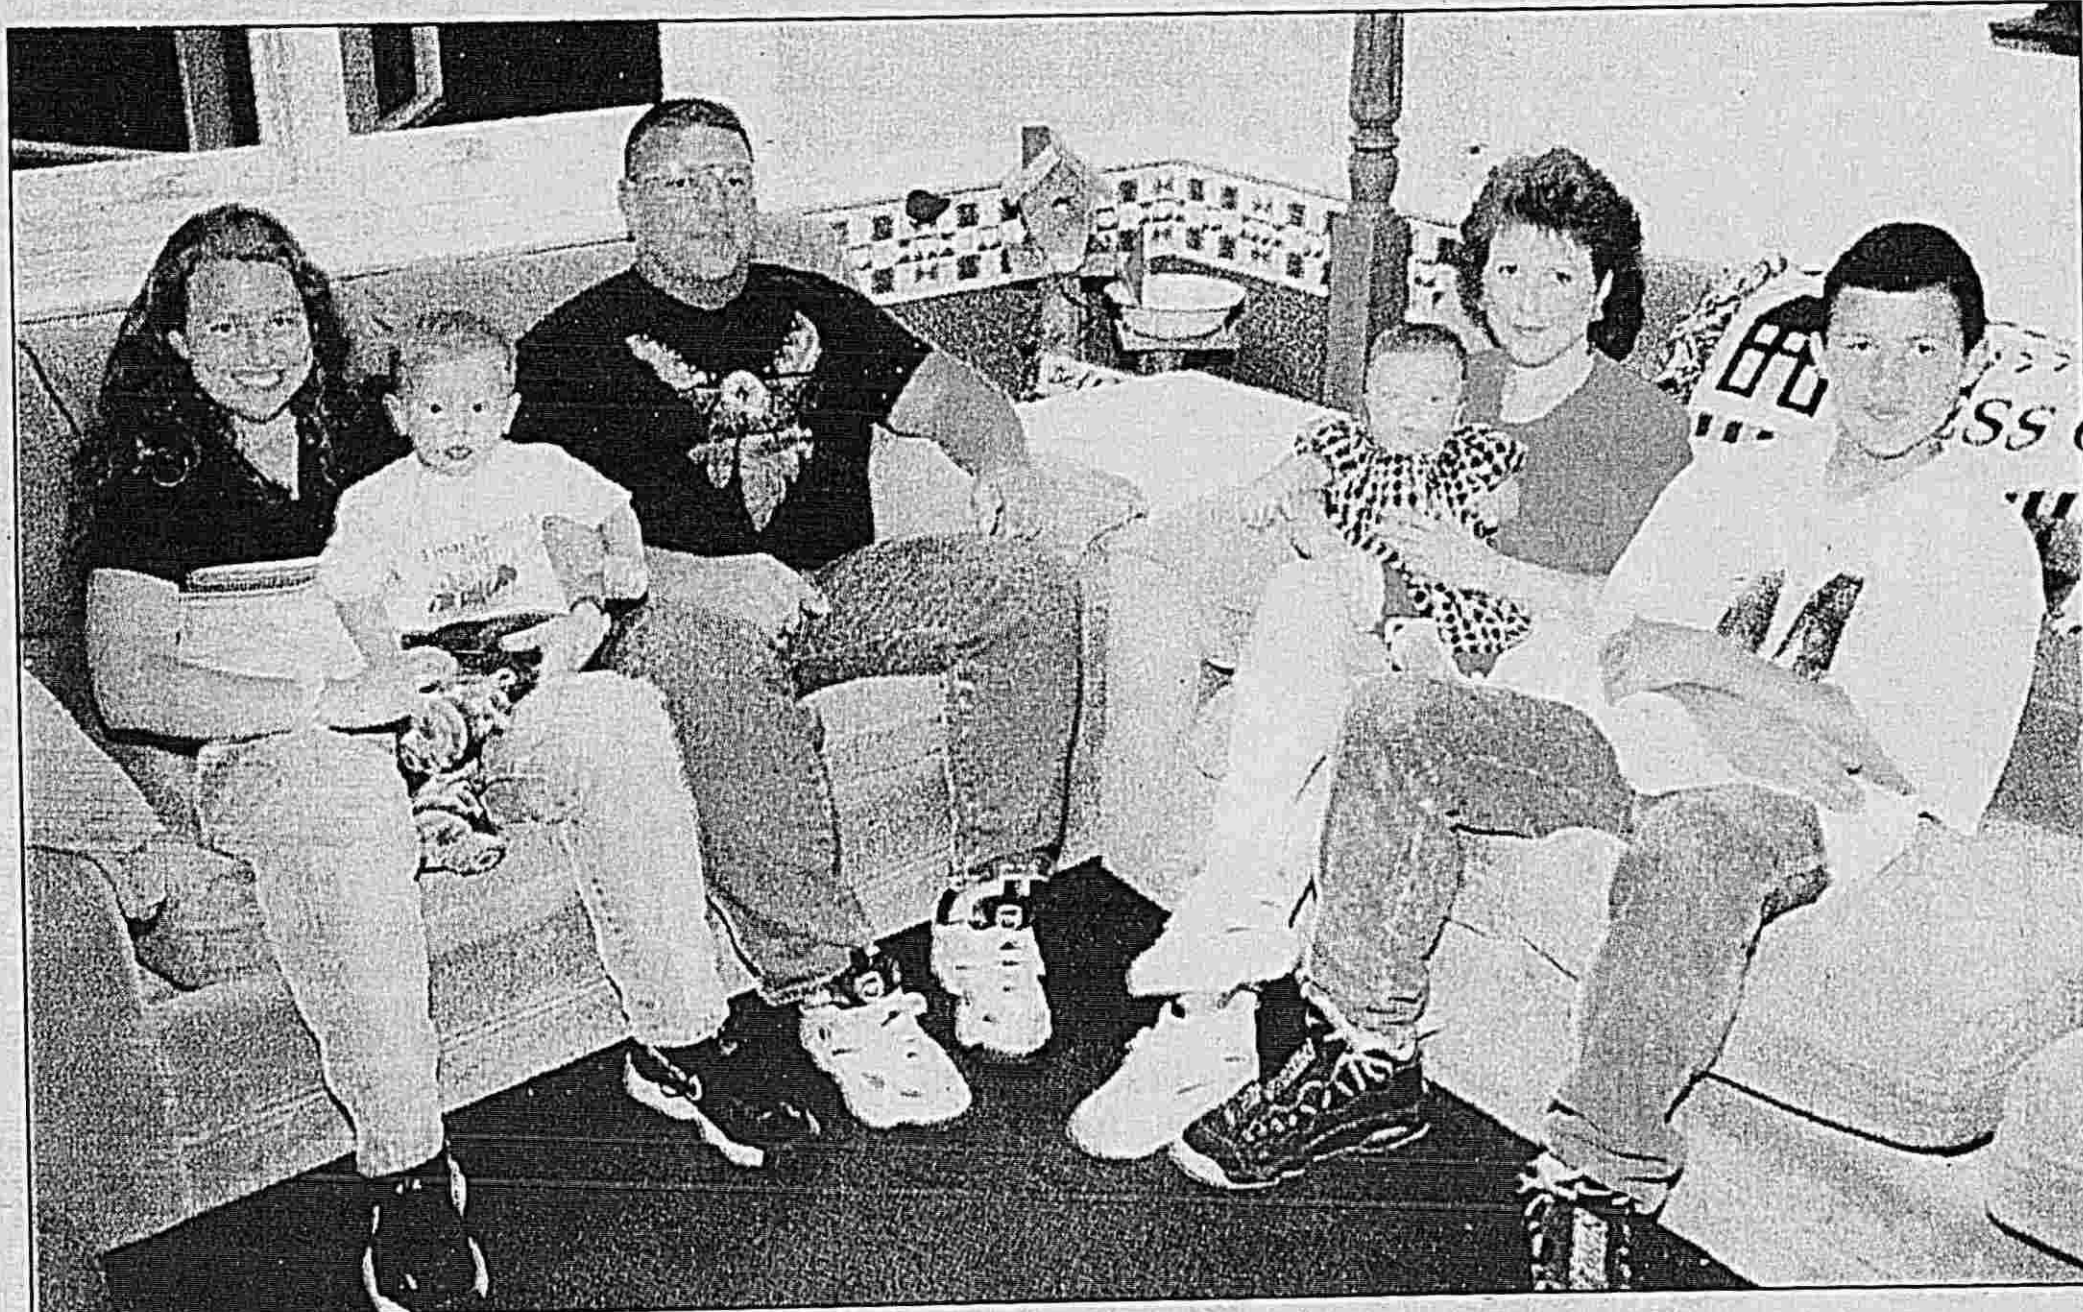

To assist the Rathundes with their medical bills, Lakeland Publishers, WXLK/WKRS and Softball City, are sponsoring a fundraiser, Homeruns for Holly, Sunday, Sept. 28, at 6 p.m.

All proceeds from the event will benefit a medical fund set up for the family. Gate admission is $4 and a raffle of various items donated by local businesses will be held in the club house at Softball City. Among the items to be raffled are trips to various locations and other merchandise.

"We are just thrilled with the idea of the softball game," Lynn Rathunde said. "Even if not one dime is raised by the event, the idea these businesses would come together to do something for our family is very touching."

Employees of Lakeland Publishers will play WKRS/WXLK employees in the charity softball game.

Junior Brown in concert at CLC Oct. 11

Junior Brown, known to the country music world as a masterful musician with an extraordinary skill in steel and electric guitar, will bring his vocal and instrumental talent to the College of Lake County in a concert at 8 p.m., Oct. 11 in the Mainstage Theatre at CLC's Grayslake Campus.

With his trademark hat and "guit-steel," a new instrument he invented to combine the sounds of both steel and electric guitar, Brown appeals to all music lovers—from alternative rockers to country traditionalists.

At age 44, he has established himself as an accomplished vocalist, instrumentalist, producer, songwriter and performer.

Brown's musical career goes back to his early years as a young boy in Indiana in the mid-'50s when he found a guitar, with several missing strings, in his grandparent's attic. He also had his first taste of popular music with big band and swing 78s his father owned. As a teenager in the '60s, he played at nightclubs and later toured with several country bands. He started his solo career in the '80s and produced his first album "12 Shades of Brown" in 1990, followed by "Guit With It" in 1993, both released by MCG/Curb Records.

Brown's first real exposure to mainstream country audiences came with the release of "Junior High" in 1995, which won a Grammy nomination for Best Country Album and an Academy of Country Music nomination for "Video of the Year." His most recent album "Semi-Crazy" is a mix of old hits and new songs with blistering guitar lick.

Tickets are $15 for the general public and $12 for CLC students, staff and alumni. Advance ticket purchase is recommended.

You can dress McDonald's up, but you can't take it out

In a recent Lake County news section of one of Chicago's newspapers, there were two articles on two different subjects with headlines that, all things considered, could have been interchangeable:

1. "Lake Forest Resigned as McDonald's Moves In"
2. "Pond Scum Creeps Into Grand Scheme."

In other words, it seems that Lake Forest residents are none too happy that McDonald's, whom they obviously consider to be the pond scum of fast food restaurants, has managed to creep into their grand surroundings.

As I understand it, the story went like this: after a long period of legal wrangling (i.e. "My lawyers can beat your lawyers"), McDonald's won the war, earning the right to do business in Lake Forest, albeit with a few concessions—the restaurant must have an acceptably dignified, tasteful exterior, with the golden arches only allowed on the sign and then only in a certain size. And by the way—no cheesy drive-through windows, please.

Which made me wonder—did they have those same requirements for Mr. T when he moved to Lake Forest?

Actually, after reading about this whole dilemma, I was shocked. Really. And the first thought that came to my mind was... well, la de da! Heaven forbid that our neighbors in Lake Forest, home to a larger than average number of the rich and the famous, should have to be visually assaulted each day by those tacky faux-golden arches! What next—Wal-Mart? (One shudders to think about such things!)

But, seriously, I really don't understand what all the fuss is about. If the golden arches are good enough for, say, President Clinton (or, as Bill has been heard to say between mouthfuls: "My McDonald's!"), then they ought to be good enough for Lake Forest, right? This is America, for pete's sake—home of the brave and land of the Super Size fries.

LIFE'S A BEAR

The way I see it, if the rest of us have to be dragged to McDonald's nearly every week so our kids can get their Happy Meal while we get an unhappy one, than why should Lake Forest parents get off so easy? It will do them good to experience some of life's simpler pleasures, such as eating at a table in the McDonald's playland area, where you can hear the screams of children beaming each other with plastic balls, while simultaneously enjoying the smell of sweaty socks and gym shoes as you attempt to digest two all-beef patties, special sauce, lettuce, cheese, pickles, and onions on a sesame seed bun.

We aren't selfish, after all—we are willing to share these quality parent/child experiences with all of our Lake County neighbors, no matter how low their property tax rates are.

Besides, I think the good people of Lake Forest brought this on themselves. Someone apparently must have "wanted it their way" in the not too distant past, because Lake Forest is already home to—gasp!—Burger King, which is home to "the Whopper." And last time I looked, Burger King was a fast food restaurant.

So why, then, is Burger King acceptable in Lake Forest and not McDonald's?

Beats me. Maybe residents feel more at home there, wearing those little crowns.

Questions or comments for Humorist Donna Abear can be sent to Lakeland Newspapers, 30 S. Whitney St., Grayslake, IL 60030.

Where movie going is fun & affordable!

'In and Out' is Kline at his funniest

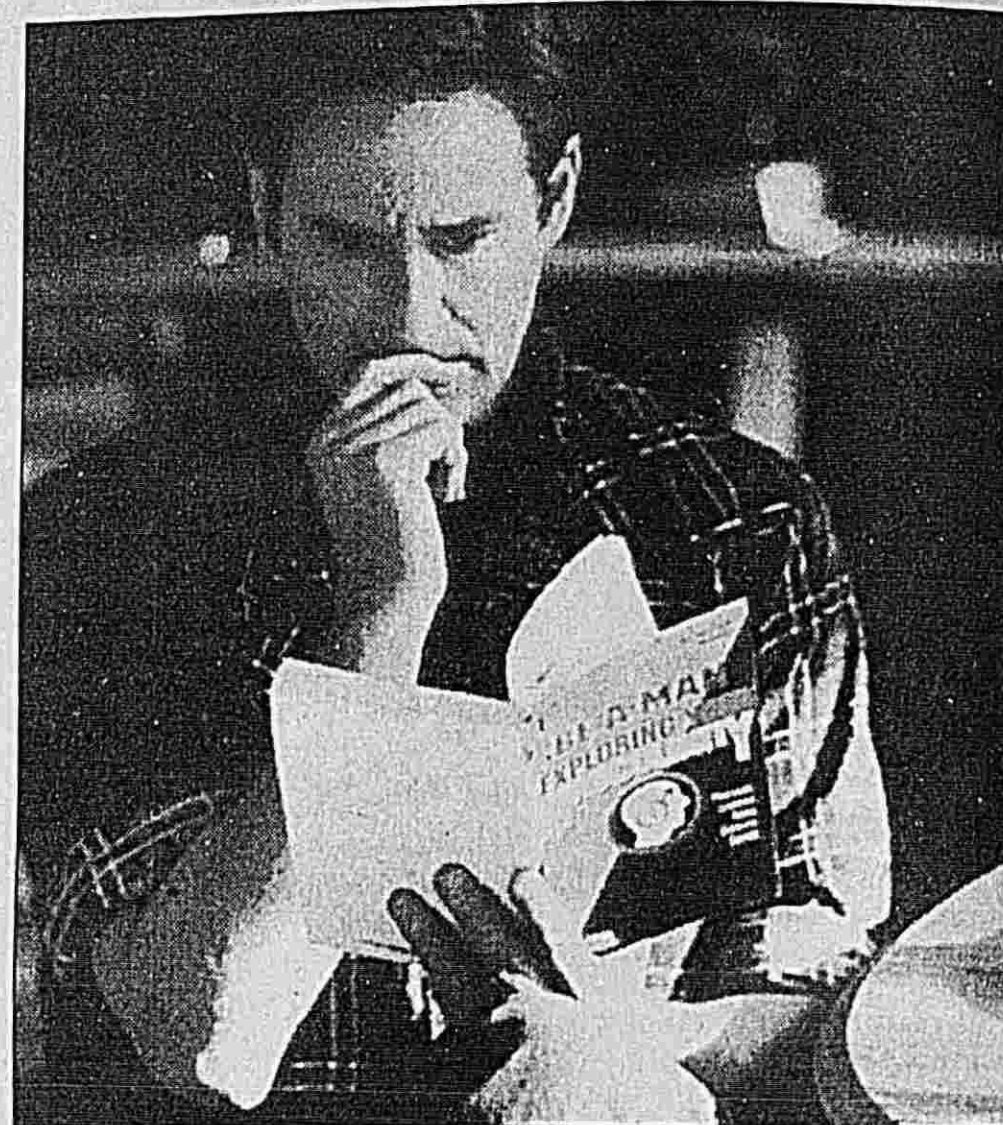

If you thought Kevin Kline was funny in "A Fish Called Wanda," or any of his other film comedies, you'll fall right out of your theater seat during his new movie, "In and Out."

Academy Award winner Matt Dillon, almost unrecognizable as a blond doing a takeoff on Brad Pitt, takes a cue from Tom Hank's character in "Philadelphia" in thanking a gay teacher.

Dillon thanks Kline, a high school teacher of his, on national TV, a great moment in Kline's life, especially when Dillon says he's gay. This sexual preference is big news to the people in the little town Kline lives in, to the staff and students at the high school he teaches at, his family and friends, and especially to Joan Cusack, who plays his fiancée, not to mention Kline himself.

What happens then as the media descends on Kline, including Tom Selleck, a gay reporter, is where all the laughs come in as Kline tries to convince everyone, even himself, that he's straight. There's an unexpected romantic scene between Selleck and Kline that will knock some heterosexual socks off!

Although a lot of the old gay stereotypes pop up, such as Kline's wrist going limp, his love for Barbra Streisand, the music of the Village People, and for awhile I thought we were heading for the Salem witch trials, all of which detract from the 1997-ish feeling of the movie, the cast is expert at tickling the funny-bone, including Debbie Reynolds,

Kevin Kline will have audiences falling out of their seats in the new comedy hit "In and Out."—Submitted photo who plays Kline's wedding-struck mother, and Bob Newhart's stuffy principal.

Is he or isn't he? Even Kline wants to know! And of course the film's detractors want to know.

We are giving this PG-13 rated flick, four out of five stars. Oh what it could have been with the stereotypes erased or at best toned down by a little human compassion and knowledge.

Director Frank Oz could have even topped Seinfeld's "there's nothing wrong with that," show.

Despite these objections, if you can stand a good laugh or 10, see "In and Out."—By Gloria Davis

Giving spring tulips another chance

Have you ever planted a few dozen tulips and they are gorgeous the first year, then the next they are truly disappointing?

My beautiful hybrid tulips planted to bloom last spring—did not bloom at all this year. All they produced was foliage. The bulbs were quite expensive, too! I dug them all up and thought I'd rather not bother with tulips. Gee, what a waste of time and money. I remembered my mom advising me years ago not to bother with tulips she said they were too "finicky." She swore squirrels got her bulbs every year!

I couldn't just abandon the thought of growing tulips—the problem being—I adore them. They sure brighten up spring! Then I recalled how my neighbor back in the city had truly perennial tulips. They returned in splendor year after year.

After some investigating, I discovered he grew botanical tulips—varieties which are over 400 years old. They naturalize as easily as daffodils. They are not as well known as the hybrid tulips and are smaller than those we are used to, but they multiply freely and flower most generously.

Here are some varieties I am going to shoot for next spring. "Scarlet Baby" a version of Kaufmanniana is one of the earliest bloomers. It is a vibrant geranium red on the outside and inside a scarlet red with a rich yellow interior base. Flowers are star shaped when fully open on 6 to 8 inch stems. In bad weather they protect their petals by closing them up tight. T. humilis is native to Iraq, Russia, and Turkey growing on mountain slopes near snowline. Blooming in midspring they resemble late pink Crocuses. They flower on 4 to 6 inch stems. T. Clusiana, "Peppermint Stick," is one of the first tulips grown in Holland. Prized for its exquisitely marrow, red and white "striped" elongated blossoms, it is still one of the most desirable of all tulips.

Its blossoms bloom on slender 10 to 12 inch stems and blooms midseason. Guaranteed to be a show stopper it will bloom year after year. "Cynthia" has identical qualities to Peppermint Stick, except it has ruby red and greenish yellow flowers.

When planting your bulbs, make sure the soil is rich in humus and they are planted in a location which drains well. For naturalizing clump them together rather than planting in a straight line. One secret to longer lived tulips is to plant them deeper than usually recommended. This also discourages pests from munching on them. When tulips are through blooming, do not cut back foliage, you must wait until the foliage has turned yellow and has begun to flop. The bulb feeds on it to develop the embryonic flower that will emerge in the spring.

A good source for ordering these tulips is The Wayside Gardens, 1 Garden Lane, Hodges, South Carolina 29695. Or call 1-800-

845-1124. I've ordered mine, I'll tell you come spring how they did! Gardening questions may be

Does the 'tooth fairy' really exist? Debate goes on

By DR. SHERRI SINGER

Dear Dr. Singer,
My daughter recently lost her first tooth. We were all very excited about the "tooth fairy" coming to visit her. She saw her friend the same day who told her that there isn't any such thing as the "tooth fairy." It just about crushed her. I want to help her with this, but am unsure if it is better to teach children the fantasy or the reality around these issues. Any help would be appreciated!

Signed..Toothless in Grayslake.

Dear Toothless,
You mean she doesn't exist? I'm crushed too! Fantasy is good for kids! Much of their play and development revolves around fantasy. In my opinion, there is nothing at all wrong with holding onto those little pieces of magic for a bit. Who's to say that the "tooth fairy" doesn't exist. She does! She's you! It is still a fun thing, and as far as I know, for decades hasn't destroyed any kid's views of reality or their futures. In fact, my experience says that the kids who know reality too soon are the ones who normally have more stress and trouble. I can remember being 6 years old and having a kid in my neighborhood tell me about death, killer bees and that there was no such thing as the "tooth fairy." I just about lost my ability to breath at that moment. If anything, we should be teaching our kids what it means to be considerate of someone else's opinions and feelings. We should teach our kid's that it's OK for people to believe in different things than we do.

Believing in things you can't necessarily feel or see also happens to be the cornerstone of religion. All of our religions are about faith and believing in magic of one kind or another. Take a close look at some of the stories that religions are based on. They make the "tooth fairy" look tame. Yet we still believe. Believing in those things is OK. Certainly, when your child reaches the age that he or she naturally begins to question these things, you can talk to the child about how some people believe in it and others don't. It is the child's choice whether the child will continue to believe or not and no one should be judging that. Certainly, if your child has packed a bag and is about to make a trip around the world in search of the "tooth fairy," make sure to stop the child and explain the reality, however, I haven't met any child who is ready to go that far.

HOROSCOPE

Aries - March 21/April 20

While it's difficult for you to be tactful sometimes, Aries, try to be just that early in the week. A delicate situation with a loved one calls for diplomacy and thoughtfulness. Be careful of what you say, because you don't want to hurt anyone's feelings. You get a surprise during the weekend.

Taurus - April 21/May 21

Don't be stubborn when it comes to romance this week. An old friend re-enters your life and wants to get close. Take a risk, and enjoy yourself. A co-worker needs your help. Don't let him or her down. Cancer and Gemini play important roles later in the week.

Gemini - May 22/June 21

Boredom overtakes you this week, Gemini. You've got a lot to do, but you just don't feel like doing any of it. Take some time to relax and get motivated. A loved one wants to spend the day with you later in the week. Do it — you two haven't had any quality time in a while.

Cancer - June 22/July 22

Express yourself during the middle of the week. Don't keep all of your emotions bottled up inside; it only will stress you out. A friend asks you for advice. Give it freely, but cautiously. He or she is not ready to hear what you have to say. Treat yourself to something new during the weekend. Scorpio plays a key role.

Leo - July 23/August 23

Your playful nature wins you praise from an acquaintance, Leo. You brighten his or her day and make yourself feel good, too. A problem at work gets you down at the end of the week. Try not to let it bother you, because it is not your fault. Loved ones try to cheer you up.

Virgo - Aug 24/Sept 22

Be wary when a friend of a friend asks to borrow money. Think before you say yes. You've got a heavy workload this week. Virgo, so don't get distracted. Keep your shoulder to the wheel, and you can get everything done on time. A close friend tells you a secret — keep it to yourself.

Libra - Sept 23/Oct 23

Bad news about a close relative gets you down. However, sulking about it won't remedy the situation. Give your family your full support. You meet an intriguing stranger later in the week. Don't be shy; make a move. You'll be surprised at how fast he or she will reciprocate. Cancer and Taurus play key roles.

Scorpio - Oct 24/Nov 22

Stay determined this week, Scorpio, even though it will be hard with so many people distracting you. If you set your priorities, you can accomplish everything on your agenda. A loved one brings a touchy family matter to your attention. Be supportive. Aquarius plays a role.

Sagittarius - Nov 23/Dec 21

Your temper comes out early in the week when a grouchy stranger crosses your path. However, don't let him or her ruin your mood. Try to forget about the incident. Spend some time with loved ones. They care about you and want to be a part of your life. You get an important message later in the week.

Capricorn - Dec 22/Jan 20

Your shy nature comes out when you are at a large social gathering. Don't get nervous; just try to be yourself. A loved one has a question to ask you. Don't avoid it, because it's not as bad as you think. Aries plays an important role on Thursday.

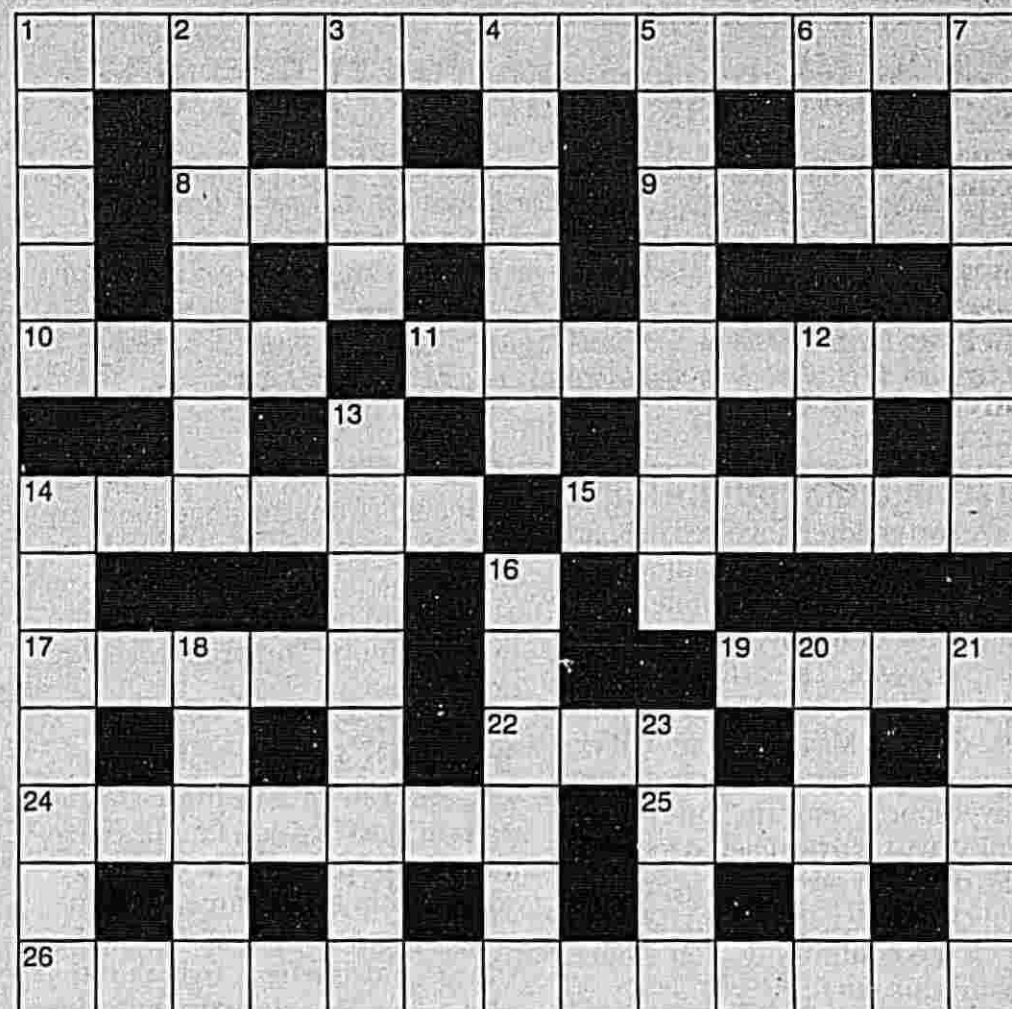

Aquarius - Jan 21/Feb 18

Be realistic this week, Aquarius. Your goals are a little too ambitious. You know your limitations; don't push yourself too hard. That special someone wants to intensify your relationship. Think about your true feelings before getting too serious. It's time to look out for No. 1.

Pisces - Feb 19/March 20

You're on the go early in the week. There's a lot you want to get done, and you're determined to do it. Don't let a stubborn loved one stand in your way. The person you've been dating stops calling. Don't get discouraged. There is a good reason for his or her actions. You'll find out soon. Sagittarius plays a role.

Cruising Can Be A Family Affair

by JIM WARNKEN

President, North Star Travel

My memories of childhood vacations include our happy family of five piling into the Ford station wagon for a week of fun, excitement, and lots of compromises.

First, we all had to agree on where we were going to stop for lunch. Then, there was the debate as to which restaurant we would have dinner. By the time we were ready to stop for the night, the choice of motels became an all out war!

This need to compromise carried on through to all activities and sightseeing during the entire trip.

Not having to compromise may be one of the most attractive features of family cruising.

Today's modern superliners offer almost constant activities for all ages. All members of the family can do their own thing.

Dad and the boys may want to try trap shooting, or maybe practice their golf drive. Mom can try her luck at bingo, or maybe the slots in the casino if she feels really lucky. The girls can either head for the disco, or maybe an aerobics class or how about just lying around the pool and looking at all the cute guys.

If the kids don't want to eat with the adults, there's usually a pizza parlor or hamburger stand on the ship.

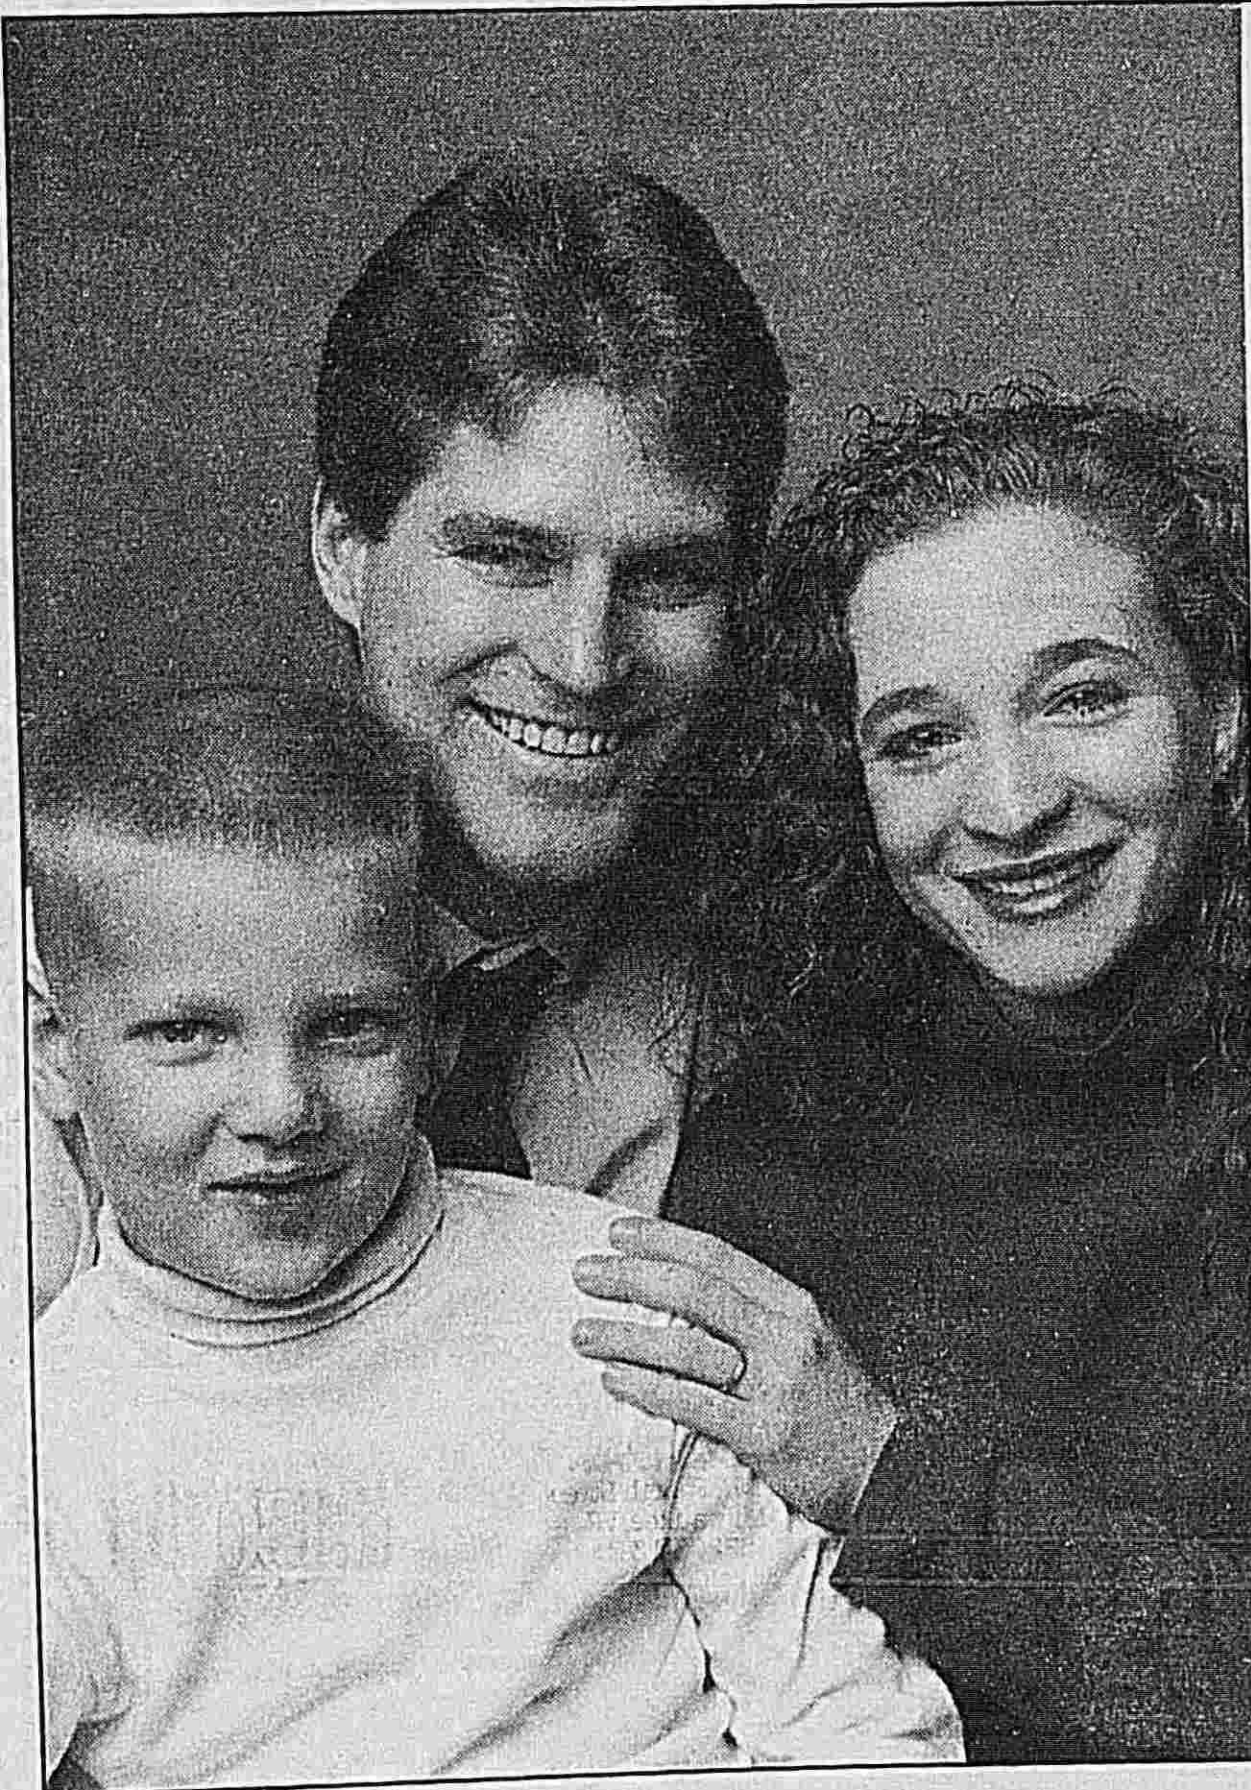

Even the youngest members of the family are not left out with their own kiddie pool, and youth counselors to help them with arts and crafts.

The cost of taking a family on a cruise may be less than you think, since regardless of which size cabin you choose, the third, fourth and fifth passengers pay the same low "extra person in cabin" rate. This puts the per person cost of even a suite within the range of many family budgets.

When you consider the cost of gas, food, entertainment, lodging, etc., you may just find a family cruise costing less than a trip to the Dells, and with a lot less family compromises!

Coverage disappointing

I have two children involved in Spartan football and cheerleading program. I was very disappointed with the cutting of the article submitted this past week. The article was just cut off. All the cheerleaders names were deleted. Maybe you should expand your sports section during heavy sports seasons. One would think you would be relieved to get articles on happy events, and give more publicity to the good things happening in the community. Remember, children are our future.

It's finally over

I'm thankful that the Lady Di thing is finally over. The ones I feel sorry for the most are the kids. There's been so much publicity, I wonder if the kids realize what this was all about. I hope parents took them aside and explained what all the fuss was about. Once again, I do feel sorry for Princess Diana, but I'm glad it's finally over.

Same service wanted

I was talking to my friend who lives in Lake Villa and her garbage bill is half of what mine is. And they include recycling. Her township board went out to bid and got the best rates. When is the Antioch Township Board going to do the same for us? Tim Osmond, we expect the same services other townships get.

Good job

I was at the meeting that Martini held and since then I've noticed more squad cars on the intersections. Good job, Judy. Who the heck is this Bob Neal saying this meeting was a waste of time? He wasn't even at the meeting. I received a letter from Bob Churchill stating he's been working on the intersection for five years. Maybe they should care more about this intersection than who's having a meeting.

Smells fishy

This is about the article in the Gurnee Press on Sept. 4 pertaining to road improvement contracts awarded for work in Lake County. It was announced by Sen. Adeline Geo-Karis, R-Zion, that IDOT awarded several road improvement projects in Lake County. Three of the four awarded went to Peter Baker & Sons for over $3 million. That may be on the up and up, but it sure smells fishy to me. Someone should investigate.

Gurnee

Here's the skinny...

The political rumor that has been spreading around Lake County recently that State Rep. Andrea Moore will challenge fellow Libertyville citizen Willard Helander for County Clerk is not going to pan out. Instead, Moore is waiting for a call from George Ryan to be his Lt. Gov. candidate or she will remain a State Rep.

Waste of time

I wonder why the members of Congress in Washington are wasting their time investigating fundraising activities of the Democratic party. Republicans taught the Democrats how to fundraise. They do the same thing they're accusing the Democrats of. I think we should put a stop to this mockery in Washington and create laws that would prohibit politicians from earning money by putting it into a campaign fund and turning it into spending money. This would be more sensible than to waste money on probes leading nowhere.

Try to fit in

To "Can't fit in." In the last four years at least five new families have moved to our street in Ingleside. Some with kids, some without. They've had no trouble fitting in. You've moved here five months ago and you've had arguments with all your neighbors around you. Your children are out playing and no one comes out to see where they are, who they're with, or what they're doing. Do you expect neighbors to be babysitters? Everyone else's kid is at fault but yours. If you expect to fit in, I suggest you change your attitude and make an effort to get along.

Ingleside

Thanks for pickup

I'd like to thank Mayor Davis and the village of Round Lake Beach's Public Works Department for picking up branches and tree limbs from residents. It's a great service and I think all the villages should offer it.

Hainesville

Conflict of interest?

Mayor Lumber, having Lisa Butler on the police commission and Pat Butler on the police force, isn't that a conflict of interest?

Round Lake

Finally...some help

Congratulations to Round Lake, for finally bringing in some officers who know what to do about the gang problems in the area. Thanks for bringing the State Troopers in.

Track won't close

I don't believe for one minute that the Arlington Park race track is ever going to close up. I think the owner is using this ploy as he did a couple of years ago, to get tax incentives from the state of Illinois. It will work. What this man should have done is bought into the gambling boats when they first came in. Maybe he wouldn't be crying like he is now.

Rigid committee

The Island Lake Garden Club was promised by the village board that the big island would be a bird sanctuary. The Lake Committee is cutting it down, and they proudly state, ridding it of wildlife, to make it into a park. About 40 people met with the committee to voice their concerns and be supportive of the garden club. The committee remained arrogant and rigid and would not enter into a discussion.

Citizens were cut off

I just want to leave a response to the meeting with Island Lake's Lake Committee on Sept. 10. The village of Island Lake called citizens complacent, but during the meeting with the Lake Committee, it exemplified the problem. Forty people showed up to object the cutting of the trees and they were shut off in mid-sentence. The meeting was adjourned before everyone spoke.

Grab it up

About the property on the corner of Rollins Road and Grand, it's going for $150,000. Why can't Fox Lake buy that and do something with it? Ingleside

Don't need theater

I'm calling concerning the news about the new 18-screen movie theater. That almost sounds exciting. Has anyone stopped to think about all the traffic. Fox Lake has traffic with eight screens. What are we going to have with 18? Mayor Davis says, "I think this solidifies Round Lake Beach as a hub of shopping in Lake County." I think this will turn us into another Gurnee Mills, only in a much smaller area. We don't need 18 screens!

Round Lake Beach

Look at Morton Grove

As I've been reading the newspaper, the Grayslake Times, I've been familiar with the pool subject. I came from Morton Grove. They should go over and take a look at what they did. They built a sports complex that's never used instead of putting in inside pools that can make money all year round. They put in outside pools, which are useless and aren't even used. Take a look at Morton Grove before you go any further.

Hainesville

Wrong way to do it

I just want to say that the Fox Lake Waterway is dredging my channel, and they're going to an unnatural depth of six feet. It's sand. They say it's clay, but all you have to do is touch it. They said they go six feet because they can't fit the equipment in there to dredge. If they don't have the right equipment, they shouldn't be doing it. I'm waiting for my sea wall to collapse, too. Of course, they ask all the smaller channels and charge the people who live on shore money. I thought they were collecting from boat stickers to pay for this. They're going door-to-door to collect cash now. Let's forget about promoting the chain and stick to doing the main channels first.

Antioch

You asked for it

In response to "Fox Lake's Great," in the Sept. 11 edition, you asked for it. The people of Fox Lake are great, however all the complaints are justified. Fox Lake has absolutely nothing for its people. The front page of the Fox Lake Press says it all. The jewel shop is leaving, and the owner remembers Fox Lake as it was. Everything will leave Fox Lake.

Ingleside

Obviously uncaring

Thank you, Trustee Weakly, for stating the Pheasant Ridge Drive traffic should be open to two-way traffic again. The residents who live on Pheasant Ridge Drive are the ones who have to suffer through all the traffic. Obviously, the people who want it open don't live there, don't care about the traffic, property values, or the danger to their kids. Most people don't observe the 20 m.p.h. limit, either. These people obviously don't care about the people who live on that street.

This is the U.S.A.

I'm calling in response to "Pay for sterilization" in the Sept. 11 edition. I wanted to say that the last time I checked, we live in the United States. I agree that we should do something about welfare, but I don't think we should pay people to have only two children.

Enough commercialism

Instead of calling a proposed building in Grayslake a "civic center," it should be named the "Village Hall Mall." This faulty project ends up being a money-making business for the village to cover the center's operation. You have to pay to use almost everything there, the aquatic center, the gym, child care facilities, and health maintenance and fitness center. Then there's the concession area. What you're allowed to walk into without paying at the door is something they call "multi-purpose space" and a "common area." Big deal. This is using $11.6 million of public dough to set up mostly businesses in our park. Sorry, but I'll patronize businesses I like best. Especially health care. There's a senior center that's planned, but we have a new village hall and a number of churches to gather in. Let's use the money from the dump wisely and veto this project until they get it right. I want to feel good about living here and don't want to be constantly haunted by commercialism.

Classic Car Rally to converge on Lake Geneva Sept. 27, 28

Hundreds of classic, vintage and special interest vehicles will converge on Lake Geneva, Wis., for the 20th Annual Lake Geneva Classic Car Rally, Saturday and Sunday, Sept. 27 and 28. The weekend long tour around the lake has become a much awaited attraction in the area.

The annual event is sponsored by the Corinne Kreissl Memorial Foundation, Inc., of Lake Geneva with cooperation of the American Cancer Society, Geneva Lake Chamber of Commerce, Lake Geneva Rotary Club and Interlaken Resort and Country Spa as host site. Over $5,000 in prizes await the winners of the around the lake tour for children's cancer research.

To date $250,000 has been raised for the American Cancer Society through a grant known as the Corinne Kreissl Memorial Foundation Grant for Cancer Research. The project titled "Immune Prevention of the Development of Primary Tumors" is being done at the Univ. of Chicago under the direction of Dr. Hans Schrieber.

Participants in the event can tour around Geneva Lake on Saturday and Sunday, stopping in five zones at designated stops to draw cards to complete each hand they are playing. The best poker hand for the entire weekend will win the grand prize of $750 donated by State Line Collision Service of Hebron. No vehicles are judged for prizes, so you don't need a special car in order to compete.

The host site, Interlaken Resort and Country Spa will provide the starting and finishing point for the two day event.

Registration will be at the Chalet and the Grand Car Show Finale will also be there with acres of parking around the Chalet.

Registration is on Saturday from noon to 6 p.m. and Sunday, from 8 to 11 a.m. The car show finale is at noon on Sunday and awards will be presented at 2:30 p.m. Prizes, trophies, consolation prizes and dash plaques to participants will be awarded as well as many door prizes from area businesses. Souvenir badges will be sold on the grounds all weekend long for a $1 donation, but admission to the event is free.

For further details, call (414)248-2764 or (414)568-0191.

HOLLY: Rathunde family's tiny miracle thickening of the lower right valve of the heart.

"What it means is that her heart has to work too hard," Lynn said. The condition, coupled with her prematurity, has caused the doctors to caution the Rathundes that Holly's immune system is not as strong as other 10-month-olds.

"They have told us that her getting a cold can be a major illness," Lynn said. "Her long-term health will be fine, but for now we need to take extra precautions."

Those extra precautions also caused Lynn to close her home day care, further diminishing the couple's income.

"We just couldn't take the risk of Holly being exposed to illness," Lynn said.

Holly underwent a cardiac cath with a balloon in April, as doctors rushed the surgery before Don's medical benefits were to expire.

"The operation was similar to an adult angio-plasty," Lynn said. Unfortunately, it was not a success.

Little Holly will now have to have the valve replaced early next year. The operation will cost $100,000-300,000.

Today, 10-month-old Holly weighs just over 17 pounds and is starting to sit up and scoot.

"She is behind for her age because of the prematurity, but she is developing well and is a very happy baby," Lynn said. While Holly is at the 40th percentile for weight for her age, she is not on the growth charts in height, yet.

The Rathunde's challenges, this past year, have not been limited to Holly.

Daughter Becky broke her leg and required surgery. She has another surgery scheduled later this year to remove the rods and pins inserted following the break. Son, Jon broke his hand and Don has been hospitalized twice for illness as well.

The result is that neither Becky nor Holly are considered "insurable" at this time. After losing his job, Don has become self-employed so finding medical insurance in the future won't be easy for the family.

"You could say it hasn't been our year," Lynn said. "But, for us it has been a good year, because we have each other and we have learned that we have a wonderful family that has been extremely supportive and we live in a community that has reached out to help us. You get through it by praying a lot and thanking God for the smiling faces you have. I think I am very lucky."

HOMERUNS: Charity softball game to aid family times a week, so having the benefit as softball game is particularly touching to him," Lynn said.

Softball City founder Otis Carter has welcomed the benefit.

"We are excited to be able to reach out and help this family," said

William M. Schroeder, president of Lakeland Publishers. "We believe in community spirit and doing what we can to help those in need."

Family seeks treatment at Ketogenic Center

Traveling thousands of miles for treatment, two children from Italy who suffer from epilepsy came to Lake Forest Hospital after U.S. relatives were made aware of the ketogenic diet—a special dietary regimen—through recent media coverage.

Lake Forest Hospital's Ketogenic Diet Center is one of only two medical centers in the Midwest—and the only one in the Chicago area—recognized by Johns Hopkins Medical Center and the Charlie Foundation—to offer a comprehensive ketogenic diet program for epileptic children. Pediatric neurologist Dr. Michael Chez is the John Hopkins-trained director of Lake Forest Hospital's Ketogenic Diet Center. His associate, Dr. Michael Hammer, has been overseeing the children's treatment.

"Adrianna and Marco successfully began the ketogenic diet in early August. They have been seizure-free since then and we've been able to lower their dosage of medication," noted Dr. Hammer.

"As with this case, we often see rapid improvement during the first weeks of ketogenic diet treatment," added Dr. Chez.

The ketogenic diet is a therapeutic diet that is high in fat and low in Pediatric neurologist Dr. Michael Hammer introduced Adriana Quartararo and her brother Marco to the ketogenic diet while at Lake Forest Hospital for epilepsy treatment. protein and carbohydrates. The diet is prescribed for children who have seizures and is generally recommended for seizure control when anti-convulsants and medications have failed. Johns Hopkins has been very active in working with the diet and has found it seems to help in about 50 percent of cases, most successfully with children between the ages of late infancy to the teens with certain types of metabolic or encephalopathic epilepsies.

If you have a child with epilepsy who is not responding to medication call the Lake Forest Hospital's ketogenic diet hotline toll free at 1(888)295-3645.

Residents to trample heart disease at Waukegan area American Heart Walk

Hundreds of community residents will be taking steps to fight heart disease and stroke, Chicago's—and the nation's—leading causes of death and disability at the 1997 American Heart Walk sponsored by Omron and presented by Loyola University Health System.

The two mile walk will be held Sunday, Sept. 28 at the Van Patten Woods on Route 173, east of Route 41 in Wadsworth. Warm-up begins at 8:30 a.m., the walk starts at 9 a.m.

More than one in five Americans currently live with some form of cardiovascular disease. "Almost everyone knows someone who has had heart disease or stroke," said event chairperson Mary Ellen Vanderventer, recorder of deeds for Lake County. "We're geared up to support the research work of the American Heart Assn." Vanderventer helped the AHA identify local businesses interested in forming teams of walkers for the event.

The non-competitive walk attracts participants of all ages, including corporate teams, families and individuals.

Each walker raising $100 receives an Omron American Heart Walk T-shirt and will be eligible for more prizes. Walkers ask friends and co-workers for donations to benefit the American Heart Assn. of Metropolitan Chicago's cardiovascular research and educational programs.

Walkers who have had a stroke, heart attack, or heart surgery will be given red caps with the slogan "Fighting Back" in honor of their victory over heart disease. Many participants will wear signs identifying that they are walking in honor of a loved one who has survived, or died from, heart disease.

Although a serious issue, volunteers organizing the event promise family fun. Food, music, a mini-health fair and prizes will be featured at the walk. Omron, a manufacturer of home blood pressure monitoring equipment, will offer free blood pressure screenings at the walk.

Last year the walk raised close to $17,000 and this year's goal is $40,000. The Waukegan Area Walk is one of 17 American Heart Walk events taking place throughout the city and suburbs that weekend. Nationwide, nearly 1,000 communities will host American Heart Walk events this fall.

Platinum sponsors of the Omron American Heart Walk are Natural Sport Shoes and Roche Pharmaceuticals. Gold sponsors include Columbia Health Care Corp., Ernst and Young LLP, Hoechst Marion Roussel, Merck and Co., Inc., Novartis Pharmaceutical Corp. and Xerox of Illinois. Media sponsors are ABC 7 Chicago and Oldies 104.3/WJMK-FM.

To join the American Heart Walk, or to organize a company team, call the AHA at 362-0808.

Lippizzan show raises $8,200 for LaCASA

LaCASA's "Equestrian Evening for Everyone" event, featuring Tempel Farms' Lippizzan Stallions, raised $8,200 to support the non-profit organization's efforts to assist survivors of rape and incest, and to educate area residents how to protect themselves from sexual assault and abuse.

The family-oriented Lippizzan show provided impressive prancing, glamorous galloping, and contagious cantering, as the beautiful and highly trained Lippizzan Stallions showed off their world class talents.

Tempel Farms is located at 17000 Wadsworth Rd. in Wadsworth.

"We're always looking for creative and successful ways to raise funds to support our programs and facility," said Ann Subry, Fund Developer for the Lake County Council Against Sexual Assault.

"The people at Tempel Farms were very helpful in working with us to plan and organize this successful event. It's the kind of generous support that enables LaCASA to continue working to eliminate the threat of sexual assault from Lake County."

LaCASA, a non-profit organization, offers comprehensive services to sexual assault survivors, and works to combat sexual assault by raising public awareness throughout Lake County.

Among LaCASA's many programs which benefit area residents are: community education, counseling for child and adult sexual assault survivors, legal and medical advocacy, police and emergency room training and a 24-hour hotline for crisis intervention. LaCASA has aided more than 30,000 Lake County residents in the past two years.

October is breast cancer awareness month

In recognition of Breast Cancer Month, Victory Health Care Center, Grayslake, and Victory Memorial Hospital, Waukegan encourage women to have a breast cancer screening.

During the month of October, mammograms are provided at Victory Memorial Hospital, 1324 N. Sheridan Rd., Waukegan for a reduced cost of $60. Screening mammograms are available at Victory Health Care Center, 100 N. Atkinson Rd., Grayslake for $60 year round.

The fees include examination, x-ray and interpretation. Both the facilities are ACR accredited for mammography services.

A limited number of appointments are available for the reduced October rate. Appointments are available in Grayslake throughout the year. To schedule an appointment, call 360-4184.

Make a difference! Wear purple

In October, make a difference by wearing a purple ribbon in protest of domestic violence. During the entire month, purple ribbons will be worn nationwide in recognition of domestic violence. Every 15 seconds a woman is battered. Every minute a woman is raped. Ten women die each day as a result of domestic violence. An alarming percentage of women and children who are homeless have been sexually victimized.

Domestic violence takes many forms including physical and sexual assault as well as psychological, financial and emotional abuse. Not all violence leaves visible bruises, scars or broken bones, but all forms of violence leave invisible, hurtful and damaging bruises on the heart.

Coordinating the volunteer Purple Ribbon Campaign in the northwest suburbs are Amy and Ken Kauth from Palatine.

The Northwest Suburban Regional office of Catholic Charities of the Archdiocese of Chicago has collaborated with United Way, G.D. Searle and Co., T&T Resource Center, community agencies, synagogues, churches, police departments, hospital and local organizations to organize the National Purple Ribbon Campaign for Domestic Violence Awareness in Lake and Cook counties. Special funding from the Catholic Knights Insurance Co. has supported Spanish language materials.

A Purple Ribbon Campaign can be created for your community by using the Purple Ribbon Campaign Handbook as a guide to make ribboned cards, to learn the facts about domestic violence, resources for speakers, videos and books, prevention suggestions, support group listings, and local organizations to contact for assistance and referrals.

To order the Campaign Handbook, send a check for $13 payable to Catholic Charities, Suite E, 1911 Rohlwing Rd., Rolling Meadows, IL 60008. Single purple ribboned cards may be ordered for $1 each. For more information or to order cards, contact Linda at 870-0560.

Saint Therese Medical Center to offer free memories, piece of mind to parents

Saint Therese Medical Center places great emphasis on the fact that a hospital should be much more than just high tech medical equipment and personnel that are too busy to get to know patients and families personally. Instead, they strive to be what every hospital should be—a place where a family will always get personalized, dedicated attention.

In keeping with this tradition, the hospital will be providing 5 x 7 color portraits of babies, toddlers and school-age children, free of charge. Parents will also have the option of having their kids photographed in miniature hospital lab coats.

In addition, local police will be on hand to provide free fingerprinting for children, which, along with the photos, may be used to provide up-to-date information in case of emergency.

Fingerprints will be kept on file at the local police station.

While visiting, families will be provided with a list of the outstanding doctors and medical specialists, hailing from the nation's top medical schools and teaching hospitals, that practice at Saint Therese. Staff members will be on hand to provide answers to any questions and to give personalized tours of the Saint Therese facilities.

Free portrait and fingerprinting sessions will take place on the following dates:

Sept. 27 at Saint Therese Medical Center, 2615 Washington St., Waukegan, 249-3900.

Oct. 4 at Saint Therese Area Treatment Satellite, 37809 N. Route 58, Lake Villa, 356-6600.

Oct. 11 at Saint Therese Physical Medicine Center, 222 S. Greenleaf Ave., Gurnee, 599-0400.

Stop-smoking clinic offered to women only

Weight gain occurs so commonly after quitting smoking that it can seem inevitable. Past attempts to prevent post-smoking-cessation weight gain have either proved ineffective or had the adverse effect of increasing the risk for relapse to smoking. In a research program that is open to female community members, Drs. Bonnie Spring and Gina Pingitore are testing a promising behavioral treatment that may offer smokers the health benefits of quitting smoking without unwanted weight gain.

The program philosophy is that most prior treatment approaches have failed because of their overwhelming complexity. "Eating and smoking are both very complicated behaviors that permeate the person's lifestyle," says Dr. Spring. "We take a very gradual approach by making changes in one arena and then letting the person become comfortable with them before making any changes in the other domain." To help life continue to feel gratifying, therapy groups work hard to identify new rewards.

Spring and Pingitore's current NIH grant provides free stop-smoking treatment to female smokers at Hines VA Hospital or the Univ. of Illinois at Chicago. The research focuses on women because they gain slightly more weight than men after quitting smoking and because they experience greater cultural pressures to remain slim. If the trial is successful, future studies will be extended to men. All interested participants should call Dr. Heather Breiter at 578-3311 or (708)343-7200, ext. 2828.

Harry Belafonte, artist, National Prostate Cancer Awareness Week spokesman

Tune in to early detection

One in five American men will develop prostate cancer in their lifetime, and African-American men are at particular risk. As a recent cancer survivor, performer Harry Belafonte knows that if detected early, prostate cancer is highly curable -- that's why regular screening is crucial.

This September is Prostate Cancer Screening Month. Annual screenings are recommended for men starting at age 50 and for African-American men and those with a family history of the disease starting at age 40. Call for an appointment today!

October benefit gala receives corporate grant

Dr. Ira Piel and his wife, Nancy, co-chairs of The Auxiliary of Condell Medical Center's Annual Benefit Gala, announced that Solo Cup Company of Highland Park is making a $25,000 contribution and will match another $25,000 in support of Cardiology Services at the Medical Center.

Last year the Solo Cup organization made a $20,000 donation toward surgical equipment at Condell. This year The Solo Cup Foundation has more than doubled their commitment to support Condell's program for the comprehensive treatment of heart disease.

The Auxiliary of Condell Medical Center is hosting "Romance Through The Decades," its Annual Benefit Gala, on Saturday, Oct. 4 at Twin Orchard Country Club in historic Long Grove. The Gala will feature a Grand Raffle including international travel destinations, and entertainment by Orchestra 33's 14-piece orchestral group, and J.P. Productions, an international dance troupe of interactive performers.

"We are proud that The Solo Cup Foundation recognizes Condell's commitment to provide treatment from the onset of heart disease through recovery. Their contribution will strengthen our service so that the medical center can continue to meet the growing need for cardiology services in our communities," said Nancy Piel.

Condell expanded its cardiac diagnostic and testing facilities last June when it opened the first fully digitized Cardiac Catheterization Laboratory in Lake County expecting to test 400 patients the first year. Thirteen months later, the 600th cardiac catheterization was performed on Sept. 4.

For the first year the number of cases was 33 percent above annual projected volume, and an additional 11 percent growth is being budgeted for 1998.

"Condell has been a leader in the treatment and rehabilitation of heart disease since the early 1970s when Dr. Ronald Klimatis pioneered the concept of cardiac rehabilitation in Lake County. In 1996, 136 patients were admitted to the program. In 1997 that number is projected to grow by 24 percent.

Cardiac rehabilitation services are conducted at Centre Club, affiliated with Condell, and help to return cardiac patients to optimum physical, psychological, vocational and emotional health," explained Mrs. Piel.

Condell has provided other cardiac services for years, as well including emergency room cardiac assessments and treatment, inpatient care, stress testing, and echocardiography, all of which have experienced considerable growth in the last two years. The medical center has initiated "Heart Menders, a clinic for patients with congestive heart failure.

Under the direction of Dr. Klimatis, "Heart Menders" administers intravenous medication to promote heart muscle contraction, provides health education related to nutrition, indications and side effects of medications, signs and symptoms of heart failure, and the importance of moderate exercise.

"Cardiac disease is the primary cause of death in the U.S. today," said Chuck Rosenberg, director of Cardiology Services at Condell. "We are expanding our services so that we can provide quality cardiac treatment close to home for where it is most accessible to our patients and their families."

For more information and reservations for the Oct. 4 Benefit Gala, call 362-2905, ext. 5540.

What Parents Can Do To Promote Academic Success For Their Children William Lee, Ed.D.

Academic success is an important goal in our society. A child's life is frequently influenced by family, school, peers, and the media, all of which help shape a youngster's attitude towards learning and doing well. The parent's role in their children's school success contain components of being a role model, "case manager" and referee to name just a few. Dr. Lee will address this topic of academic success by discussing specific strategies that parents can apply to help their children maximize their educational experience.

Speciality gardens can reflect individual personalities

By MIKE GRECO

Speciality gardens always seem to emit strong emotions in oneself. They can bring back great memories, become a peaceful haven, dazzle the senses, and even make small areas seem large. True, good design elements must be present to make speciality gardens work on one's site.

A speciality garden can be as simple as an herb garden with herbs planted in different sized pots buried into the ground at different levels, or as complex as a terraced patio with a waterfall cascading into a pond that's lighted for night viewing with fragrant perennials around the patio and a large, overhead canopy of a shade tree. A perennial garden that attracts butterflies and all nectar loving insects can be designed and installed in one area on one's property. Are you a fan of birds? Many trees, ornamentals, shrubs and evergreens can be used in your gardens to attract them.

One of the most peaceful sounds is the sound of water cascading into a pond. This can be achieved using something as simple as a fountain or as elaborate as a decorative pond with a waterfall. Using outdoor lighting makes one's gardens visible at night and can create warm moods in one's garden, especially when colored lights are used.

Once the landscape has created its function in your yard, aesthetics can come into play and be enjoyed by all. Can't think of many ideas for your site? It's okay, there's plenty of talented people in the landscape industry to help you out in creating and installing your dream landscape. Have a great Fall, and remember, Fall is a great time for planting and can be done well into late November and even early December.

Mike Greco is a landscape architect and owner of Mill Creek Nursery, 34601 Oak Knoll Circle, Gurnee, IL 60031, 855-0590.

Gardening can be economical, provide much needed exercise

When times are tough, many families start to cut down on leisure activities. Instead of going out to the movies or for a bite to eat, numerous Americans choose inexpensive activities they can do at home.

One such activity — gardening — can help save a little money and take a step toward improving the environment at the same time. And planting a garden offers other benefits. It can provide good physical exercise and save money on the family food bill. Gardening also is one activity in which the whole family can participate.

With a little planning and care — and a small investment — a garden can provide months of enjoyment.

Having a successful garden does not require extensive knowledge — or a green thumb. Here are some simple tips beginning gardeners need to follow:

- Take photos of your lawn and house and bring them to the nursery. They will help determine what types of greenery will look good and grow best in your yard.

- Use composts, mulches and organic fertilizers to help soil stay healthy. Good soil is essential to the growth of any plant because it holds vegetation in place while retaining moisture and nutrients for the plant to use.

- Prune plants by removing dead stems and leaves. It is important to the development and maintenance of your garden. By cutting away diseased areas and thinning out sections to permit more sunlight, flowers will continue to blossom and provide plenty of opportunities for photos.

- Add to the look of the garden by using trellis or night lighting. Stone statues and strategically placed benches will add to the design of your yard.

- Keep records of all your horticultural successes and failures. If a particular plant blooms well in your garden, snap an instant photo of it and keep it in a journal for future reference. If a flower doesn't grow, keeping a photo of it will help keep you from repeating the mistake.

Attention late bloomers.

It's time for the fall color of garden mums. These hardy bloomers are one of the easiest to grow. And they display enough color to make those turning tree leaves envious. The garden mum has been called "America's Most Popular Perennial" — and with good reason. With the proper care and a bit of help from Mother Nature, garden mums have the potential to bloom again and again every autumn.

So if you need a good excuse to get outdoors this fall, grab an armload of our spectacular garden mums, available now at Leider's Garden Greenery.

Water softeners serve valuable functions

Water softeners can easily prevent the stains and damage typically associated with hard water. Hard water is water that contains dissolved minerals, mainly calcium and magnesium. These minerals can interfere with the sudsing of soaps and detergents. Mineral-laden water can eventually clog hot water pipes and reduce the life of water-using appliances. These same minerals often make housework more difficult and cleaning agents less effective. Fabrics laundered in hard water deteriorate faster, look less clean, and wear quicker. Soaps and shampoos often do not lather as well in hard water, and more of each product must be used to work efficiently. The softening process exchanges soft ions of sodium for calcium and magnesium, producing water that is soft, thus reducing scale and mineral deposits.

The Water Quality Association, the largest industry group, says current research indicates that the amount of sodium produced by the water-softening process does not present adverse health effects for the average healthy consumer. In fact, over 90 percent of the sodium chloride in the average daily diet comes from sources other than drinking water and less than one percent of the water in the home is used for cooking and drinking.

However, even for people in such high-risk health groups as those with mild hypertension, the advantage of restricting sodium is far from certain.

Persons whose intake of sodium has been medically restricted can still take advantage of the benefits of soft water by installing a hard-water faucet to bypass the water softener, or by installing a drinking-water system, such as reverse osmosis or a distiller, to reduce sodium in the drinking water.

Compost yard waste is the answer to America's landfill crisis

Each bag of grass clippings, leaves and other landscaping waste left on the curb after mowing the lawn is making America's landfill crisis worse.

Currently, yard waste accounts for almost 20 percent of the volume in landfills. By the year 2000, at the current rate, half the country's landfills will close. As a result, more and more legislatures are banning yard waste — the second-largest waste component after paper products — from landfills.

So what's a homeowner to do if garbage collectors won't accept grass clippings and leaves any more?

The answer is in your own backyard. Today's yard waste can be transformed into tomorrow's fertilizer by composting. It's less complicated than you might think. Don't be misled by the notion that a compost pile is too much work, unsightly or smelly.

To build a basic compost pile, start with a square cage, at least three feet square and four feet high, with fencing on only three sides. You can use chicken wire with wood or metal stakes at the corners. Build the cage in a shaded area of the yard. Or place the pile behind shrubs to screen it from view. But don't put it under trees; their roots may penetrate the cage. Finally, cover the bottom of the cage with branches or wood slats.

Begin in the spring. Each time you mow the lawn separate available yard waste like grass clippings and dead leaves into two piles — green organic matter in one pile and dry in the other. To start the compost pile, spread a five- to 10-inch layer of dry matter at the bottom of the cage and then add a second layer of green material.

The key to effective composting is a mixture of materials. In other words, don't allow large amounts of one material to build up.

If you don't have a wide variety of yard waste available, you can mix shredded newspaper into the dry material. Or toss kitchen scraps like vegetable or fruit peels, eggshells and coffee grounds into the green layer. But avoid adding meat and bones because they attract insects and cause an unpleasant odor. Also, don't compost yard waste treated with weed killers or herbicides, or vegetation that has been affected by disease or pests.

To top off the two layers, sprinkle on ground limestone and a shovelful of soil to absorb odors. Throughout the rest of the spring and summer, continue building layers until the cage is full.

Remember to leave a small depression at the top of each layer to help the pile hold rain water. During dry spells, water the pile to keep it moist and encourage decomposition.

Since air circulation will speed the process, turn the pile periodically so that the drier outside edges are folded into the compost. Also, grass clippings will decompose faster if you attach a mulching plate to your mower to chop them into smaller pieces before composting.

As decomposition occurs, the pile will give off heat as it "cooks." During the hot summer months the process can take as little as six weeks. However, in the winter very little decay occurs, so it can take as long as six months if you don't start composting until fall.

Monitor your compost's progress by sticking a thermometer down a couple of inches into the pile. When the compost is ready, usually in three months, the temperature will drop and the material will look dark brown and crumbly.

You can use this mature compost to "top-dress" the lawn by covering the grass with a thin layer of finely screened compost. It's an easy way to improve your topsoil without digging up the lawn and starting over. Top-dressing can also improve drainage and aeration, as well as bury disease spores and prevent their spread. And, by speeding the decomposition process, top-dressing reduces thatch. In fact, using compost as a top-dressing twice a year may satisfy all the nutritional needs of your lawn.

Also, a back yard compost pile will provide your garden with a regular flow of enriched soil to help vegetables and flowers grow faster and stronger. In addition, compost will improve the soil, making it loose and easier to work.

Warning: You may be at risk for having a stroke

Has anyone ever said to you, "Calm down before you have a stroke?" It's a warning worth heeding. Stroke is the third leading cause of death in the United States and the number one cause of adult disability. Nearly 550,000 Americans have strokes every year. More than 150,000 of them die.

A stroke is a "brain attack." Strokes occur when a blood clot or ruptured artery interrupts the flow of blood to the brain, the body's most vital organ. When cells in that area of the brain are deprived of the oxygen and nutrients the blood provides, they die and functions that they once controlled are permanently impaired or lost.

This sets off a chain reaction of chemical and electrical events that endanger a much larger area of the tissue in the brain.

Older Americans at Risk

There are a number of risk factors for stroke which can be addressed by therapeutic interventions or by altering behavior, including high blood pressure, heart disease, cigarette smoking, heavy alcohol use, high cholesterol, a previous stroke or transient ischemic attack, previous heart attack, heart disease, arterial fibrillation, diabetes, carotid artery (in the neck) disease, and a family history of stroke.

How do you know if you are having a stroke? Here are the symptoms to watch for:

- One-sided numbness, or paralysis of face, arm, or leg.
- Sudden blurred or decreased vision.
- Difficulty speaking or understanding.
- Dizziness, loss of balance or loss of coordination, especially when combined with other symptoms.
- Sudden severe, unexplainable headache, often described as the worst of your life.

If you or someone near you suffers one or more of these symptoms, call 911 or your designated emergency number immediately.

Janssen Research Foundation is currently evaluating a neuroprotective agent at 70 centers in the United States.

For more information on strokes, call the National Stroke Association at 1-800-STROKES.

Changing places with aging parents

Your parents always took care of you as a child, and now that they're getting older, they might need you to take care of them. It's a switch in roles, and few people are prepared for the emotional and physical drain of these changes.

Thinking about your future role as caregiver may help ease the transition. When you understand the scope of your responsibilities, you can create an organized plan to deal with them.

The first decision that must be made is your involvement in the care of your parents or elderly relative. Will you be the only person giving round-the-clock care, or do you have brothers and sisters who are willing to help? Will there be a medical professional to assist you, either part-time or full-time? Your family pharmacist or physician can often recommend someone, according to NARD, the national association representing the independent retail pharmacy.

Will your parents move into your home, or will you be stopping by theirs on a daily basis? Are there medications that you will need to administer? If so, arrange a consultation with the family pharmacist to discuss their prescriptions. There are pharmacists who specialize in home care and long-term care, and can consult with you and your parents at home. Check with your family pharmacist for a referral, or contact the NARD Home Health Care/ Long Term Care Division at 1(800)544-7447.

You must also weigh other responsibilities that may demand your attention. Are there young children in the house? Do you work outside of the home, requiring you to be away from most of the day. If you do, a nursing home or other long-term care facility may be the answer.

Once you decide to what extent you wish to be involved—and other siblings, children and the patient should all be involved in this decision—establish some guidelines.

Set aside some personal time every day. It is important that you maintain your own mental and physical health. Take half-hour breaks whenever possible, and if the care is long-term, arrange a few weekends away. Don't be forced into an uncomfortable situation. If you are too tired to bring your dependent parents to the pharmacy, and the trip is unnecessary, put it off until a better time.

Finally, be patient—your parents are probably experiencing some of the same emotions that you are feeling. Independence is important to everyone, and losing it is frustrating. Let your parents do as much as possible by themselves.

Baking soda: we can't seem to get enough

Dentists admit they're not quite sure how—or why—baking soda made its way from the kitchen to the toothpaste tube. Some speculate that it's just the fact it feels good—consumers love that foaming-action, baking-soda feeling.

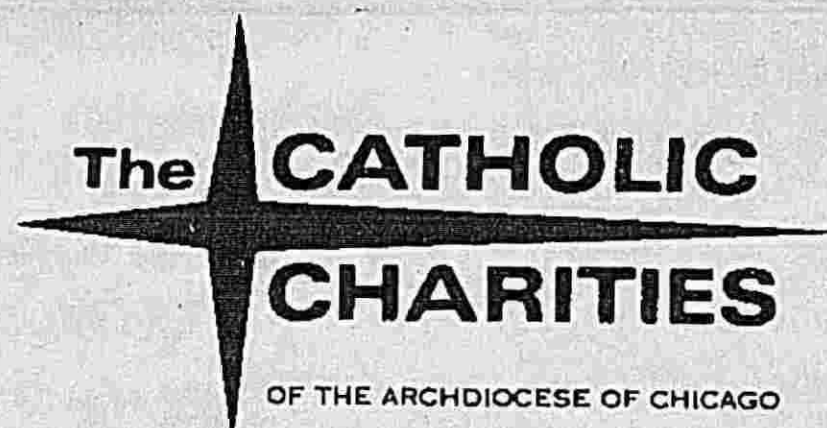

Whatever their reasons, Americans are buying toothpaste with baking soda in growing numbers. Over the past year, baking soda was an ingredient in 25 percent of the $1.5 billion toothpaste market in the United States. The newest entry is Baking Soda Formula Rembrandt.

But toothpaste is just one use for the derivative of trona, a naturally occurring mineral. Researchers at Rembrandt discovered numerous other personal care uses for baking soda. Here are a few of them:

- Sprinkle baking soda in shoes to remove odors.
- Mix a small amount of baking soda with shampoo for a deep clean that helps remove styling products from your hair.
- Turn your favorite facial cleanser into a facial scrub by mixing it with baking soda.
- Dust underarms with baking soda for a natural, effective deodorant.
- Soothe sunburn by taking a lukewarm bath mixed with a box of baking soda.

For all the reasons why brushing your teeth with baking soda is good for you, call 1-800-548-3663.

Studies show that pets are good for health

Most people know it intuitively. Pet owners know it for certain. And now the scientific evidence is growing—pets are good for people's health.

That's one good reason to give a dog a home in October, which is Adopt-A-Shelter-Dog Month.

Studies show that pets are especially beneficial to seniors. For instance, a study of 1,000 Medicare recipients showed that the seniors who owned dogs had 21 percent fewer contacts with a physician. Another study, of heart patients, reveals that people over 40 who own pets have lower blood pressure levels.

The Pet Food Institute says that's easy to explain. For one thing, walking dogs keeps seniors active. And pets ease loneliness and depression. "Seniors," the Pet Food Institute says, "take better care of themselves when they own a pet."

Tips for finding an animal friend

Adopt-A-Shelter-Dog Month in October is the perfect time to invite a four-legged friend to join your family. But before you adopt, consider this advice from the Pet Food Institute:

- Choose the right pet for your lifestyle. If you don't enjoy long walks, for instance, a lively dog who needs lots of exercise won't be a good match.
- Pet owners should consult a veterinarian annually to ensure their pet's good health and should follow their veterinarian's advice on spaying and neutering.
- Dogs need clean, fresh water daily, and they should be fed food that is nutritionally complete and balanced.

- At the shelter, look beyond the puppies. Mature dogs, too, make wonderful pets.
- Remember, giving a dog a home is a long-term commitment.
- Be sure to seek the advice of shelter workers. They can make sure you and your new friend are a good match.

Appearances can be deceiving with off-the-rack reading glasses

These days consumers can buy take-home tests and devices to check for high blood pressure, diabetes and colon cancer. They can also pick reading glasses off the rack to try to solve their own vision problems. But like other do-it-yourself diagnostic aids, off-the-rack reading glasses can cause a person to miss or misdiagnose a health problem, says the American Optometric Association.

Off-the-rack reading glasses are simply magnifying lenses mounted in frames. They generally come in about 10 different powers and the consumer tries them on until he finds a pair that permits easy reading.

These glasses are relatively inexpensive. But there is a risk in buying them without first getting a thorough eye examination to detect eye disease and determine the exact cause of seeing difficulties. Even among adults, blurred vision cannot always be attributed to the natural effects of aging.

Other disadvantages of these glasses are:

- The magnification of both lenses is the same. Most people, however, need a different lens prescription for each eye.

- They have no correction for astigmatism, a common vision problem causing blurred vision.

- They can cause headaches, tired eyes or other eyestrain symptoms because the wearer's line of vision may not correspond to the optical center of the lenses.

- They may seem fine when worn for a minute or two in the store but when used for an hour or more to concentrate on reading, needlework or other close work, they may prove unsatisfactory.

By having a thorough optometric exam each year, consumers can rule out or obtain treatment for an eye health problem that may be interfering with their vision, and prescription lenses can be custom-ground to the wearer's exact vision needs, as determined by the optometrist. Although they cost more than over-the-counter glasses, prescription lenses provide better and more comfortable vision.

Six tips for a good night's sleep

Everyone deserves the luxury and comfort of a good night's sleep. Science cannot tell us exactly why a body needs sleep and how much, but medical research confirms the wisdom behind the old Irish proverb: "Good sleep is the beginning of good health."

Sleep restores not only physically but mentally as well. These six simple tips can help you sleep well and wake up refreshed:

- Think of your bedroom as the relax room. Make sure the environment is restful. It should be quiet and stress-free. Adjust the temperature to a comfortable level and dim the lights. Sleep on a firm mattress with clean sheets.

- Spend 15 minutes relaxing before retiring. Take a warm bath. Read a book. Listen to soft music. Drink a glass of milk.

- Establish and maintain a routine. Follow your own body clock; some people feel rested with six hours sleep and others need eight hours. Always wake up at the same time, no matter what time you go to sleep.

- Avoid heavy exercise, alcohol and drugs, caffeine and cigarettes immediately before going to bed.

- Once in bed, relax your body, muscle by muscle. To help you relax try spending five minutes doing a mental "guided imagery" exercise, focusing on each body part (i.e. left calf, right calf) from scalp to toes.

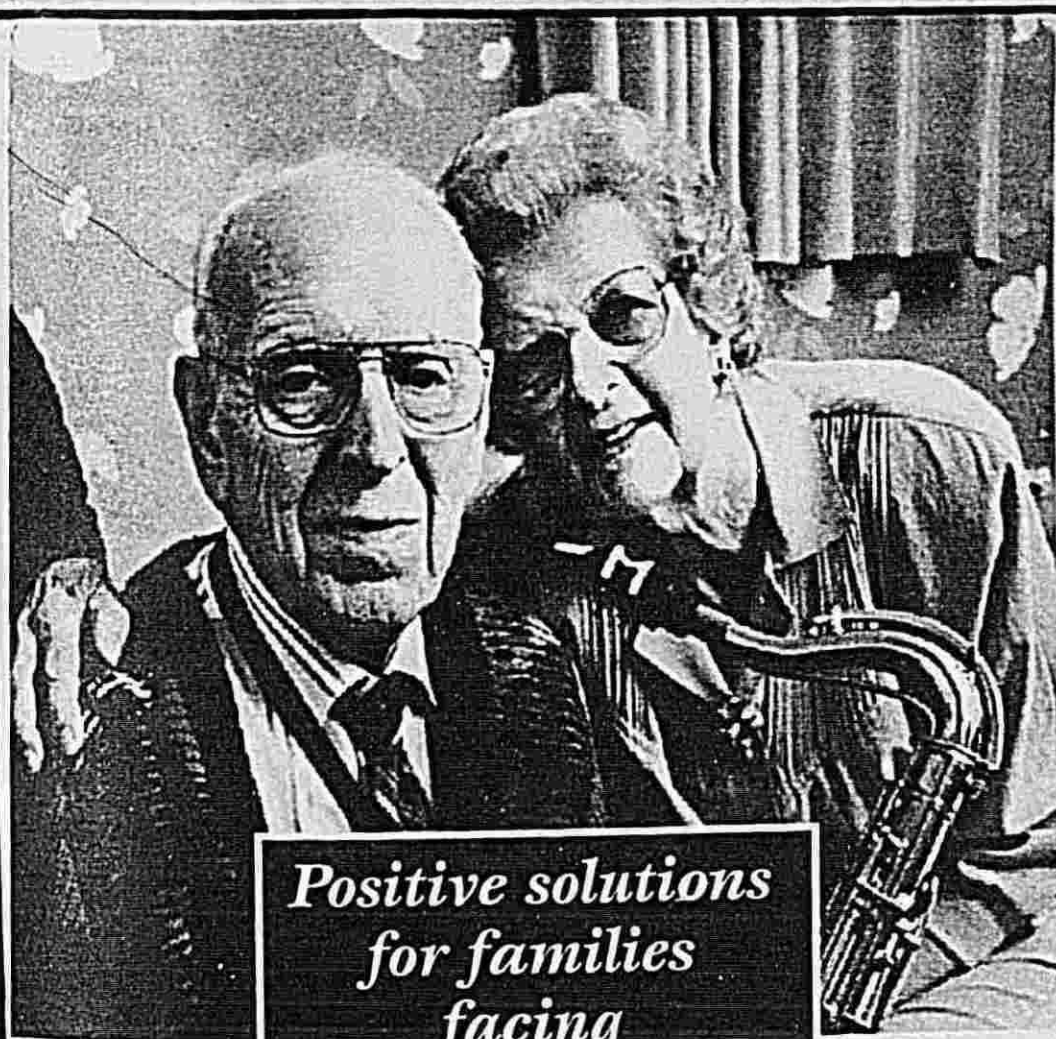

- Try sleeping with a contour pillow. It's designed to follow the natural contours of the neck and head to support and align the body as nature intended, while therapeutic foam fingers adjust to the individual.

Positive solutions for families facing Alzheimer's

My husband had always loved music. He taught high school music and played saxophone in a Dixieland band. That was years before he got Alzheimer's. But retired 16 years ago, but sometimes he would forget he didn't play in the band anymore. He'd go out in the middle of the night as if he were leaving to perform.

I wouldn't even know he'd left.

That's when my daughter suggested ElderHaus. After 53 years of marriage, it was a hard decision to make—but, he's safer there."

Not long ago, a little girl was born with a few strikes against her. Ten month old Holly Rathunde arrived three months premature and was diagnosed with pulmonary stenosis, a thickening of the heart muscle requiring surgery, and a weak immune system; she is currently uninsurable. Her family's ongoing struggle with medical bills in excess of $400,000 has inspired us to get all our players on the field to do something to help.

On Sunday, Sept. 28, Lakeland Publishers will meet WKRS/WXLC at the ballpark to play a charity softball game to benefit Holly. It's your opportunity to show the Rathundes that we live in a community of good sports. Your attendance at the game is your chance to step up to the plate. Your ticket price of $4.00 will be donated to the Rathunde family, along with any other donations received. Pitch in, won't you?

Dr. Seuss bandit robs Libertyville bank

Robber has hit five area banks since June

By JASON J. KING
Staff Reporter

The "Dr. Seuss Bandit" appears to be back at it again.

A man matching the description of the one who has held up five other North suburban banks and one in Chicago struck the Harris Bank, 354 N. Milwaukee Ave., in Libertyville on Tuesday, Sept. 23.

The man was dubbed the "Dr. Seuss Bandit" due to the long, black, stovepipe hat he wore in two of his earlier holdups.

The man, described as a black man, about 5-feet, 10-inches tall, and having a stocky build, entered the bank at around 4:50 p.m., and demanded money in large bills from a teller. The man told the teller he had a weapon, but did not show one.

FBI spokesman Bob Long said the hold up did not surprise him, saying the man may have run out of money, spurring his latest holdup.

The man is believed to be the one responsible for a string of robberies in the Northern suburbs. The hold up spree began on June 5, at Harris Trust Bank in Wilmette. The man then is believed to have held up the Citibank in Vernon Hills two days later.

Officials believe he then hit First

Midwest Bank in Highland Park on June 13 and Eden's Bank in Wilmette on June 16. The last two heists prior to Tuesday's occurred back-to-back at the LaSalle Bank in Deerfield on June 27, and at the Midtown Bank in Chicago, on June 28.

The man was wearing an olive-colored suit jacket, white shirt, black tie, baseball cap and gloves in Tuesday's robbery, said Long. He was also carrying a cellular phone as he has in previous robberies. He was also wearing a large bandage, covering all of his nose, portions of both his left and right cheeks as well as his upper lip.

Long said the man left the bank on foot and entered a large tan car, driving north on Milwaukee Ave. He made off with an undisclosed amount of money.

Long said there is no way to predict when and where a bank robber would strike, but added "bank robbers are generally not all that swift," saying he expects the man to slip up eventually and get caught.

Vernon Hills to be site of third CLC campus

Campus could open as early as next year utilizing existing buildings

By RHONDA HETRICK BURKE
Editor in Chief

College of Lake County students may soon be taking classes in a former air conditioning storage plant located in Vernon Hills.

The College of Lake County board of trustees approved buying 22.55 acres in Vernon Hills at a cost of $7.09 million for possible development as a south Lake County campus, Tuesday.

College officials said the idea of building a south Lake County branch has been explored for years and surveys from residents of the area indicated a strong desire for a campus in the area.

Currently 30 percent, or 4,113, CLC students are from the South Lake County area.

"With my fellow trustees, I am very pleased that we have found property in south Lake County that could at some future point serve as the College of Lake County's third campus," said Richard Anderson, chairman of the board of trustees.

"The board has long wanted to provide expanded services in the south part of Lake County," said Trustee Millicent Berliant, a resident of Deerfield, in reviewing the project proposal earlier. "Purchase of the property will be a major step toward that goal."

The Vernon Hills site is located adjacent to Route 21, one quarter mile north of the intersection of Route 21 and Route 45, and consists of four parcels of land owned by multiple parties. Two of the parcels have buildings: one has a 6,000 square foot facility currently used for by American Igloo Corp., for light manufacturing; the other, a 15,000 square foot office building.

The college has been looking for a site for a possible south campus since the late 1980s. Twenty-three sites have been evaluated in the area bounded on the north by Route 60, on the east by Milwaukee Ave., on the west by Route 83 and on the south by Lake-Cook Road.

CLC President Gretchen J. Naff explained some of the reasons the college is purchasing the south Lake County property, citing requests from citizen advisory groups for a greater CLC presence in the south portion of the county, growing population in this region and the increasing traffic congestion encountered by those traveling to the Grayslake Campus from the south.

Naff indicated that further market research would be needed to determine the programs offered at the site and "what kind of college presence—campus, educational center, small, mid-sized facility" should be developed in south Lake County. Nevertheless, the purchase of property at this time is prudent, Naff said, given the rising cost of land in south Lake County. "We need to act now to ensure that a site will be available for future development at an affordable price," she said.

The college will pay for the property acquisition through savings, and no increase in the property tax rate will be required, according to Naff. "We have had the goal of acquiring property in south Lake County for some time," Naff said before the announcement. "over the years, we have managed college resources to allow for this purchase."

Naff indicated that the college has no immediate plans to build a campus on the site, but will use the office building on the land to "test the market" for a campus. Plans for programs to be offered at the Vernon Hills site will be developed over the next six to 12 months, according to Naff.

Purchase of the Vernon Hills property is contingent upon the college receiving any necessary state and village approvals.

CLC currently operates two campuses, one in Grayslake, and the other in Waukegan. The college manages program offerings in south Lake County through its Southlake Educational Center in Highland Park. Courses are offered at the center and at 16 extension sites in southeast and southwest Lake County.

Naff said there would continue to be a need to operate some of the 16 program sites as well.

Proposed campus site from Legat Architects drawing.

Forest preserve has growth spurt

Deal finalized on purchase of 533 acres near Wauconda

By SPENCER SCHEIN
Staff Reporter

The curtain has finally closed on the "Bulldozer" era in Lake County, when many believed it was more fashionable to develop unincorporated land rather than create more forest preserves.

The Lake County Forest Preserve District came to final terms on purchasing a massive 533 acre parcel near Volo in Wauconda Township at Fish Lake and Gilmer roads, immediately east of Route 12.

The board approved the purchase at its meeting Friday, paying $6.1 million, approximately $11,400 per acre, in order to create a new forest preserve in the western portion of Lake County.

"This is the largest single acquisition made by the Forest Preserve District since 534 acres were acquired at Sun Lake Forest Preserve in 1990."

Robert M. Buhai
Forest Preserve president

est Preserve in 1990," said Robert M. Buhai, Forest Preserve president. "It is exactly the type of property voters told us they wanted then they overwhelmed supported our 1993 bond referendum."

The property includes 58 acres of natural oak woodlands and 171 acres of high-quality wetlands, with additional farm lands suitable for wildlife habitat restoration, Buhai said.

And, possibly more importantly, it will provide "a possible route for our planned West Loop Trail and Greenway, and a potential connection with the statewide Grand Illinois Trail," he said.

Forest Preserve Commissioner Bonnie Thomson Carter (R-Ingle-side) was elated with the purchase that will create a new forest preserve in her district.

"What we did today will be enjoyed forever," Carter said, following the Sept. 19 meeting held in Waukegan.

"The Forest Preserve listened and acted upon the wishes of the people for more open space," Carter said.

"With the purchase of this land

Lake County Republicans vote for unity

The Executive Committee of the Lake County Republican Central Committee voted at their September monthly meeting held at Lake County Republican Headquarters in Libertyville, in support of Party Unity and against endorsements, announced Lake County Republican Chairman John E. Schullen.

"Today is a great day for the Lake County Republican Party, announced Schullen. We welcome a new day of Republican Precinct Committeeman involvement in endorsements at the local level and no endorsement by the Executive Committee. Continuing, "For the past two years, under my chairmanship, we have promised to look at our endorsement process and to address the needs of increased Republican Precinct Committeeman involvement. Our vote last night allows local input and involvement and frees our county Party to unify all candidates against their Democrat opponents in the General Election.

County Republican Co-chairman Adeline Geo-Karis echoed this thought. "Our objective is to elect qualified candidates. We strongly believe that we have very qualified candidates in the Republican Party, and urge support of their candidacy."

With the vote last night, the Executive Committee will forego candidate screening sessions and endorsements on the county level. The vote, however, does not effect endorsements by individuals or by townships.

"The Lake County Republican Party is open to all who share Republican beliefs and ideals. We welcome a broad spectrum of candidates and pledge to work for their election in November, concluded Schullen.

In-person absentee voting begins at Clerk's office

In-person absentee voting for the Nonpartisan Election to be held Nov. 4 begins Thursday, Sept. 25, in the County Clerk's office, Room 101, 18 N. County St., Waukegan. Voting will be offered during regular office hours of 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday through Thursday, and 8:30 a.m. to 7:30 p.m. on Friday. In-person absentee voting will also be offered on Saturday, Nov. 1, from 9 a.m. to 12 noon. The last day to vote in-person absentee is Monday, Nov. 3.

In Illinois, absentee voting is restricted to the following: absent from Lake County on election day; physically incapacitated; student temporarily residing outside Lake County; observance of a religious holiday; incarceration pending trial date; serving jury duty; employed in the Office of the Lake County Clerk/State's Attorney/or as an election judge and election day duties will prevent being present at the polling place.

A registered voter may also vote an absentee ballot by mail. The voter should request an application for absentee ballot by calling the Lake County Clerk's office at 360-5912.

Once the signed application is returned, our office will mail their ballot within 48 hours beginning Thursday, Sept. 25.

"Our office also offers a number of absentee programs which accommodate voters who are temporarily or permanently unable to be at the polls on election day. These include the Disabled Voter Program, the Temporarily Absent Student Program and the Snowbird Program. We encourage voters who wish to learn more about these programs to contact our Absentee Voting Dept. at 360-5912," Lake County Clerk Willard Helander said.

FOREST: Enjoys growth spurt

we spare the taxpayers of additional school referendum, traffic gridlock and loss of quality of life," Carter said. "This is a key purchase with the pressures of future mass development in Wauconda Township.

"This preserve will provide, in the future, large open space for recreational purposes, flood relief, wildlife habitat, in addition to adding to our trail corridor," she said. "As some of us know, it is cheaper to save our land for the enjoyment of future generations than it is to develop it."

This may have been a dig at the previous county board administration, where under former Lake County Board Chairman Robert Depke the forest preserve district acquired only 754 acres (of which 313 was donated) during the three years ending this past December.

Since then, the district has purchased 789 acres, including the newly acquired forest preserve.

The Forest Preserve District Board purchased the property with funds remaining from the successful 1993 Forest Preserve bond referendum funding of $20 million for land acquisition and $10 for development.

Of that, approximately $4.2 million remains in the land acquisition fund, which the district is using in negotiating to purchase another 213 acres.

AT A GLANCE

A DIGEST OF STORIES MAKING HEADLINES THROUGHOUT OUR REGION

County Board tours Chain

Fox Lake—County Board members were looking for "smart growth" on a field trip in the middle of the Chain O' Lakes region, Monday morning.

The trip was a chance for the Lake County Planning, Building, and Zoning Committee to examine the impact of development on natural resources in a region that is very different from other parts of Lake County.

Pamela O. Newton, chair of the committee, led the delegation of committee members, county staff personnel, township officials, people from municipalities, and journalists into the lakes and up the channels on a pontoon boat. The morning-long tour focused on Petite Lake, Fox Lake, and parts of Pistakee Lake, and Grass Lake.

Newton said she has taken a proactive role to get the committee out of Waukegan, where it usually meets, to see development issues with county personnel who can explain what is happening and why. Monday's trip was to show committee members the regional community of waterways and their development issues.

Newton said that flooding, shoreline erosion, water quality, hydric soils, and development-infill issues are different in this part of the county.

With the task of writing a Unified Development Ordinance before them, she said it was important for committee members to see that a uniform set of regulations may not address all the issues that exist in the county. Newton's pledge has been to become more specific with regulations and to be more protective of the county's natural resources.

District 1 representative Judy Martini said it was important for county board committee members to see the beauty of the area's natural resources. There are important development issues in this part of the county, she said, and the new Unified Development Ordinance must address them.

Ryan was elected to his second term as Secretary of State in November 1994. Educated as a pharmacist, the Kankakee resident has served in government since 1973 as a legislator, lieutenant governor, house Republican leader, and speaker of the house.

Tickets for the Antioch Township Republican Club should be reserved for pick-up at the door by calling 847-395-1872. Although tickets may be available at the door, advanced reservations are recommended.

Grayslake strike threat passes

Grayslake—Elementary District 46 and its teachers union have come to a tentative agreement on a contract. The union vote scheduled to be tallied Friday and the Board of Education will vote on the contract Oct. 6.

Negotiators came to a settlement last Friday towards the end of an 8 and a half hour negotiation session. During the course of negotiations the Board of Education had to be called in for an emergency executive session late in the evening.

District 46 teachers have been without a contract since June 30. If things hadn't gone well at the meeting Friday the union was planning to take a vote on whether to strike.

Dr. Seuss bandit back at it

Libertyville—The "Dr. Seuss Bandit" appears to be back at it again.

A man matching the description of the one who has held up five other North suburban banks and one in Chicago struck the Harris Bank, 354 N. Milwaukee Ave., in Libertyville on Tuesday, Sept. 23.

The man, described as a black man, about 5-feet, 10-inches tall, and having a stocky build, entered the bank at around 4:50 p.m., and demanded money in large bills from a teller. The man told the teller he had a weapon, but did not show one.

Run for fun

Runners gather after the Condell Distance Classic Run in Libertyville Sunday, Sept. 21 to accept awards, prizes and a lunch. The event, sponsored by Condell Medical Center, is in its 21st year and offers a 10K, 5K and the Lakeland Newspapers One-Mile. Runners and walkers numbering 1,654 turned out for the event, 230 for the Lakeland One-Mile. The first male to finish the 10K was Mike Kairis, 28, from Berwyn, in a time of 32:14.8; the first woman was Jenny Crain, 29, Milwaukee, in 34:58.6.—Photo by Lynn Gunnarson Dahlstrom

Vote keeps plans moving

Gurnee—Gurnee Mayor Richard Welton's vote keeps the first car dealership site in Gurnee on schedule.

A lighting issue threatened to delay the project. Trustees Tom Chamberlain and Robert Amaden objected to the compromise worked out through village staff and Saul Rosen. Dave O'Brien and Verna Rocheleau favored it, but because two trustees, Mark Ratfelders and Tracie Bullock, were absent from Monday's meeting, Welton had to break the tie.

Rosen's representatives attempted to convince the trustees there will be no spillage of lighting from Route 132 to nearby neighborhoods. Rosen requested a foot-candle reading of 1.0 for the Route 132 side, compared to one-quarter near the residential areas. The site is at the northeast corner of Brookside Drive and Route 132.

"It is considerably more than the other merchants in CB2 districts along Grand Ave. The lighting standards at Jewel-Osco and Dominicks - I am concerned about the look down Route 132.

Other areas up for discussion - landscaping, signage, and dumpster screening did not draw as much discussion. A proposed day care use was withdrawn.

One nearby resident said the plan is "totally different than what was first presented."

Landowner John Nemeth questioned the height of the berm and how it is measured.

But it was the lighting issue which almost sent the matter back to the Gurnee Plan Commission or a negative vote.

"The questions the citizens are raising are not unreasonable and you should work together," Amaden said.

Amaden said he objected to a "proliferation of signs and lights along Route 132."

"I am concerned about the overall affect on the whole corridor. The others have 400 watts," Chamberlain said.

"Lighting is the most important thing. Without it, it jeopardizes the viability of the project," Rosen said.

Vollmer to speak at ACHS

Antioch—Schools need to change in order to prepare students for life in the future and community residents need to be active participants in enabling that change. That is the message of Jamie Vollmer, a businessman from Iowa who will speak at the Antioch Community High School auditorium next Monday evening at 7:30 p.m.

The Sept. 29 meeting of professional educators and community residents is expected to create conversation about the future of the area's school system and about how people want to educate children.

"You have to consult the community when you make a big change because you can't touch your school without touching the culture of your community," Vollmer said.

Professional educators in the Antioch, Lake Villa, and Lindenhurst area have spent time and effort during the past few years to improve the school system through collaboration.

"(Vollmer's) function, hopefully, is to spark some interest in some ongoing conversations," said Daniel L. Burke, superintendent of Antioch Elementary Dist. 34. "Jamie Vollmer provides a focus and that's what we can begin our discussion or dialogue around."

Dennis Hockney, superintendent of Antioch Community High School said, "For long lasting improvements to take place in any organization, the people who are going to be involved in carrying out those improvements have to be a part of the decision-making process." The speech by Vollmer is one point of access for the parents, business people, students, and educators of the area to be a part of that process.

Shooting suspects arrested

Mundelein—A reputed Waukegan gang member and two Mundelein residents were arrested earlier this week for their alleged involvement in the shooting of an automatic weapon in a residential neighborhood, police said.

The shooting took place at around 11:30 a.m. Sept. 21, and police arrested three suspects—Santos Hurtado, 33, and Jaime Berlanga, 30, of Mundelein, and Jaime Hurtado, 21, of Waukegan, who were charged with various weapons violations, police said.

Each was remanded to Lake County Jail on $100,000 bond, pending a next court hearing of Thursday, Sept. 25, police said. Bullets were found in two houses, police said. No one was injured.

Dist. 118 urges bond approval

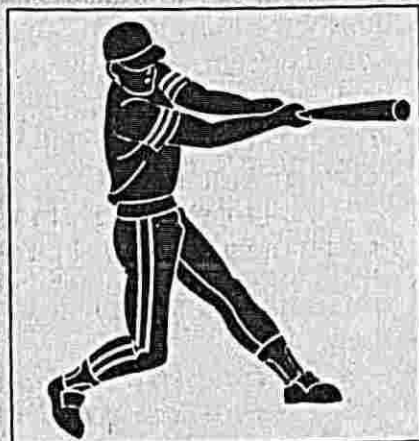

Wauconda—Although they can not support it, school administrators of Wauconda Unit District 118 are doing everything they can to explain why voters should approve a $14.1 million building bond issue in November.

Voter registrars were made available at all school open houses, and are available at each school.

Dr. John F. Barbini, superintendent, has said that without additional space made available for the 1999-2000 school year, serious changes will have to be made in the quality of education offered, such as renovating music and art classrooms and having those areas put on carts and brought into classrooms.

Open space torch not burning brightly

In a day and age when open space preservation is up for discussion regularly, townships aren't following the lead of Libertyville Township in the formation of township open space districts or at least conducting a debate on the subject. Such entities have been legal for a decade. Libertyville Township is the state's only township with an open space program, one established in 1986 with a $23 million bond issue.

Now Libertyville Township Supervisor E.T. "Mike" Graham, Lake County's open space granddaddy, is in the process of launching another bond issue for a new wave of land acquisition. Authorization of up to $43 million in bonds could come as early as next month. Graham is advocating bonding, as he has for years, as an alternative to the public footing the bill to subsidize growth and development. Graham's watchword is "land preservation with no increase in taxes."

Undoubtedly, township officials haven't embraced the Illinois Open Space Act because of political pressure from the building industry and lack of understanding on the part of the voting public of the relationship between taxpayer funding of infrastructure improvements and their real estate tax bill.

The latter hasn't always been the case in Libertyville township. Except during an eight-year respite during the late 1980s and early 1990s when curbing growth fell out of favor with the electorate, space preservation has been supported in Libertyville Township. Graham and his township team ran last April on a platform of expanding township open space and they won handily.

So it should be understandable that Graham and Co. pursue expansion of open space without holding a referendum. In light of changes in the Lake County political climate, the inigma is that other townships where public space acquisition is held in equal esteem haven't picked up the cudgel. Or do we have the public mood gauged incorrectly?

School planning challenges history

BILL SCHROEDER
Publisher

Libertyville's education establishment—school board, administration and unions—is challenging history in a plan to build a high school for Vernon Hills. The plan, including expansion of the existing Butler Lake building, will go before voters Nov. 4.

School officials said they recommended the second four-year building plan requiring voter approval of $48.5 million in bonds after studying "all alternatives."

An obvious answer to student overcrowding—have Vernon Hills build its own school—has been low-bridged in the planning process leading to confusing information. A brochure stating flatly that state law "prevents" the Village of Vernon Hills from forming its own district later was corrected later by a newsletter explaining how a new school district can be formed, through a highly technical and cumbersome process of unification of grade school and high school districts.

The district was involved in a split more than 30 years ago when it became desirable to create Mundelein High School through a division of Libertyville-Fremont High School Dist. Stevenson High School was created in a split of the Elia-Vernon Dist. Round Lake created its own high school in the early 1950s by withdrawing from Grant. Lake County history is on the side of splitting. Two high school districts, Waukegan and Lake Forest, saw second campus operations go sour when enrollments dropped. Will that be the fate of the new second Warren campus that just opened? Demographic shifts already have resulted in elementary enrollment softening in Libertyville.

Voters are sure to be thinking about these things when they go to the polls.

MADD for George

Illinois Sec. of State George H. Ryan, following an unobstructed path to the Republican gubernatorial nomination next year, can add to his arsenal of positives the Mothers Against Drunk Driving (MADD) inaugural national leadership award. Ryan was praised as one of the nation's "foremost leaders" fighting DUI. How can Democrats attack someone who has worked so hard to make our highways safer from drunk drivers?

Record crop

Bill Snodgrass confirmed something this column has suspected for a long time. The 1997 corn crop is going to be of record proportions. "Possibly the second best ever," exclaimed Snodgrass, the retired superintendent of North Chicago High School. A Waukegan resident, Snodgrass maintains a lively pace, keeping active in Republican politics and watching over affairs of a family farm near downstate Charleston.

Snodgrass visited Iowa and west central Illinois during the summer and found "wonderful corn stands" everywhere. He said the condition of 1997 corn growth is "unbelievably even" everywhere. Ironically, this year's potential record breaker follows the dimly spotty yield of 1996 when countless farmers weren't able to harvest any corn at all. That's the up and down nature of farming.

Worth celebrating

Imagine a husband who books a band, hires a comic and invites 150 friends to dinner at the Country Squire to celebrate his wife's landmark 75th birthday. Ageless Shirley Trinski, gowned in floor-length white, belies women who stop counting birthdays. Husband Bob, whose dual career in law enforcement and the trucking business touched all walks of life, displayed his usual daring and dash in making the most of a memorable event.

Foregoing politics?

Chicago scribes keep bringing up the name of Lake County's Fred Foreman, the former U.S. attorney for northern Illinois, when speculating about the 1998 Republican state ticket. These days, though, Fred prefers to talk about the exploits of the Warren Blue Devils where his son is a promising junior lineman. Wife Stephanie just delivered their daughter to Carroll College for her freshman year so politics isn't priority these days in their Gurnee household.

Foreman now is connected with a Chicago law firm.

Creature cruelty

Two jetskiers were observed on the north end of Grass Lake attempting to rundown two swans. The birds tried to dive to safety, but the water was only two feet deep. While taking flight, one of the swans was hit by the skiers, who were observed by a couple and their son in a fishing boat. One of the skiers had a small boy on board. Do jet skiers bring out the worst in people or do just idiots operate jet skis?

One man's family

The lady of the house is attempting to fill a void in Erika and John's education, something not taught in pre-school—fishing rod casting. The sprouts each have a fishing rod when they visit their grandparents. Practice in the kitchen and family room can get hectic. Try reading the paper with casting plugs coming at you from two different directions.

COMMENTARY

'Everyday mathematics' won't prepare students for everyday life

By Tomislava S. Schoeneman

I have always come to expect a high degree of judgment and integrity from an entity entrusted with the guardianship of children. It was therefore as surprising as it was distressing when the Dist. 70 Board of Education acquiesced to the math curriculum committee's recommendations to adopt Everyday Mathematics, the elementary curriculum developed by the University of Chicago School Mathematics Project (UCSMP).

Having spent the last few months researching the havoc created by current trends in mathematics teaching and curricula, I am at a loss to understand the school board's decision. Hence, my disbelief, unfortunately, borders on distrust and suspiciousness.

Trust is predicted on mutual understanding. Bringing dissent into the open is a means of creating that understanding. Yet, there was no open forum, no genuine opportunity whatsoever to ask questions or register opinions on such a major undertaking.

Steve Leinwand's presentation on May 12, was a poor attempt at promoting understanding. First, the flyer announcing the presentation was noncommittal with respect to District 70's actual course of action, thereby ensuring a low turnout. Second, Leinwand did not adequately address some parents' concerns and criticisms. In fact, the meeting was abruptly ended just as the questions became more pointed.

Trust and understanding are built upon information and communication. In keeping with that spirit, I'd like to draw your attention to some noteworthy facts and information I discovered during my investigation:

- Basic research in cognition, learning, memory, psycholinguistics, and other areas of cognitive psychology do not support "learner-centered" "discovery learning," i.e. the "constructivist" approach.

- The state of California has endured a "constructivist framework" for math instruction since 1985. The 1996 National Assessment of Educational Progress (NAEP) math test results showed 54 percent of California fourth graders scoring below a basic ability level, placing California near the bottom of the participating states. As for the students who had been exposed to "constructivist" math throughout most of their school years, 54 percent of the freshmen in the California State University system must take remedial math.

- In 1989 the National Council of Teachers of Mathematics (NCTM) issued a set of standards glorifying the canon of "constructivist" math: dependence on calculators, creating strategies for a "personal" mathematics, teacher as facilitator, and group problem-solving. The Council's standards created quite a stir among its members; disagreement was widespread. The NCTM's own Research Advisory Committee cited a lack of evidence for the Council's recommendations. Consequently, the Standards were never formally adopted.

- UCSMP's Everyday Mathematics is considered to be the best of the "constructivist" mat genre. However, when compared with other instructional materials, especially those offering "incremental review," Everyday ranks dead last. One mathematician labeled UCSMP's materials as "dangerous."

- As for UCSMP's glitzy, self-aggrandizing promotional booklet touting student achievement studies, any competent student of statistics will spot a host of problems, ranging from credible research designs to an absence of tests of statistical significance. While Everyday Math's booklet provides anecdotal observations from teachers and administrators, I have had poignant conversations with parents detailing their children's lack of skills. These same parents have had to expend additional monies for private and commercial tutors.

The facts speak decisively. "Constructivist" math, of which Everyday Mathematics is an archetype, is a highly controversial and experimental approach with no basis in refereed and peer reviewed research.

Your actions have demonstrated an utter contempt for parents and teachers alike. Our knowledge and experience are irrelevant to the curriculum committee's elusive and intangible recommendations: active participants, group work and sharing, risk taking, shared responsibility with parents and teachers, fun and motivating, challenged with real-life situations, etc. Enhancing the students' mathematical abilities was never cited as a reason for adopting UCSMP's instructional approach.

Libertyville District 70 residents have been misled from the beginning. We were only informed of an intent to adopt new textbooks, not an entirely radical approach to math instruction. What's more, no textbooks exist.

Deception, arbitrary use of authority, misinformation, suppression of dissent—these are political tactics, not those of an American institution, the local school board. Allow me to "challenge you with a real-life situation." Ladies and gentlemen, search your moral convictions, lead with principles and summon the courage to think anew.

PARTY LINES

PARTY LINES, THE LAKELAND NEWSPAPERS' COLUMN OF POLITICAL OPINION, IS PREPARED FROM STAFF REPORTS.

Consider Rep. Wood as Ryan teammate

State Rep. Corrine Wood's stock as a running mate for Sec. of State George Ryan's bid for governor is on the rise.

The freshman legislator from Lake Forest is said to be getting short list consideration from Ryan, who is all but committed to slating a woman for the state's number two post. Ryan isn't expected to be challenged in the Republican primary next year, so whomever he tabs will get a spot on the GOP ticket.

Wood's 59th District includes part of Libertyville Township, Shields Township (North Chicago, Lake Bluff and Lake Forest) and northern portions of West Deerfield and Deerfield Townships.

The petite politician with a law degree and lobbying credentials from an influential trade association proved to be a savvy lawmaker. Wood's Republican credentials are first rate. She's a past president of the Lake County Republican Federation, fund-raising arm of the county GOP organization. She has strong Lake County roots and her husband has downstate ties. What more could the party ask?

How about her moderate stance on abortion (pro-choice) and a strong appeal to suburban female voters through a successful conquering of breast cancer? Besides, Wood is a dynamo on the campaign trail.

Breakfast time

State Rep. Andrea Moore (R-Libertyville) is aggressively expanding her Legislative Breakfast

WOOD: On Ryan ticket?

MOORE: Seeking state-wide office?

GILLERAN-JOHNSON: Back in the saddle.

Club, a quarterly forum that presents notable speakers and is a fund raising vehicle.

Moore, another Lake County woman mentioned for statewide office, has scheduled her next breakfast for 7:30 a.m. Wednesday, Oct. 15, at Gurnee Holiday Inn. Speaking will be Mitchell Fromstein, chairman, president and CEO of Manpower Inc. Past speakers have included Mike Ditka and Bill Kurtis.

Individual dues are $150. Corporate memberships are available for $250 for two.

No endorsements?

Lake County Republican Chairman John Schullen is pondering a hiatus on primary endorsements as a way of reforming a system that has been embarrassing in the past. There is precedent. McHenry and DuPage Republicans don't endorse in the primary. A bylaws committee has been working on a new system which increases involvement of precinct committeemen in the endorsement process instead of a hand picked screening committee.

Back in the saddle

Judge Barbara Gilleran Johnson will host her "Back in the saddle again" kick off event Oct. 2 at Julie's Country Western Bar & Grill, 21611 N. Milwaukee Ave., in Lincolnshire, from 5:30-8:30 p.m. The Country Western Round Up will feature the live music of the A.P.B. Band (All Police Band) and refreshments. Tickets are $25 per person. If you saddle up, call Linda, 336-2090.

Speed-reading: Wham, bam! Thank you, book

I sure hope you haven't taken a course in speed-reading because, if you have, you probably are finishing this column now, having started it seven seconds ago.

My dictionary defines speed-reading as a method of reading rapidly by skimming. It first appeared in dictionaries in 1962, so this form of literary barbarism hasn't been around all that long.

There was a time when words were savored for their sonic and visual delights, their romantic and environmental dalliances.

I have come up with another definition for speed-reading:

"Wham, bam! Thank you, book."

I have been hearing a radio commercial advertising a speed-reading course and find it a bit disturbing, if not mind-blowing.

It says you can learn to read 10 pages in a minute and lock the content in your memory. It says the course can teach you to read a newspaper in 10 minutes and "polish off a novel on your lunch break."

Whatever happened to sipping and savoring? Do we chugalug our morning coffee? Would you want to slurp up a hot-fudge sundae in 15 seconds instead of enjoying it for the full 15 minutes?

Do you view your favorite television shows in fast-forward?

As Mahatma Gandhi reminded us, "There is more to life than increasing its speed."

I must admit I did some speed-reading back in my school days, but we didn't call it speed-reading then. We called it cramming for a test because we hadn't studied all semester.

I discussed speed-reading with a schoolteacher friend. "I've often been curious about it," he said, "I even practiced it on my own for fun. But my ultimate take on the subject is: speed reading, what's the point?"

"Oh, I know it could be a boon

THE PFARR CORNER

for some folks who are overloaded with academic or technical chores, but if you're an avid reader, you'd never dream of using it."

I doubt much content is locked in the memory. As Woody Allen joked, "I took a course in speed-reading and was able to read 'War and Peace' in 20 minutes. It's about Russia."

Do people zipping through a book ever stop to savor an artfully crafted sentence, a poignant paragraph, or do they just flit along picking up little more than fragments?

Speed-read Shakespeare? What was that classic question posed by Hamlet? "To be or not to be... rotten in Denmark?"

In "Gone With the Wind," what was that unforgettable zinger Rhett fired at Scarlett?

"Frankly, my dear... I don't know nothin' 'bout bringin' babies."

Remember, on page 648, when Scarlett is wondering whether fallen Atlanta someday will rise again, become a boom town? And remember Rhett's prediction?

"Atlanta will be boffo again, baby, when Ted Turner and Jane Fonda move there with their billions, and when Greg Maddux leaves the Cubs and comes south to pitch for the Braves."

"Of course," said Rhett, rambling on, "Atlanta will make some mistakes, such as letting Brett Favre go to Green Bay."

You think I'm making this up? Well, if you speed-read "Gone With the Wind," you'll never really know, will you?

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Lesson to be learned in handling of tragedy

Has anyone asked this question? Did the Sheriff of Lake County handle the case involving the standoff involving Robert Cooke and Carol Johnson over the growing of marijuana plants properly? During 15 hours of negotiations Sheriff Del Re stated: "During the negotiation he (Cooke) indicated he would not go to jail. He was indicating he would kill himself."

I would like to inform your readers that the training given to law enforcement personnel in the handling of barricade cases, specifically states that the number one priority at the scene is the preservation of human life.

Why then was the situation exacerbated by tossing canisters of pepper gas into the residence which forced Cooke to follow through with his threat to kill himself and Carol?

Some will suggest that it was Cooke's choice. However, leaders of law enforcement organizations have learned that in these types of cases continued negotiations and other non threatening measures are to be followed. The FBI learned this from their disastrous handling of WACO and RUBY Ridge.

Clean-up lakefront now

A recent newspaper article has once again raised the visibility of one of our nation's ugliest travesties against nature and humanity, the Johns-Manville asbestos dump on the shores of Lake Michigan. The Johns-Manville site has the distinction of being Illinois' first dedicated U.S. Environmental Protection Agency's Superfund Site, a distinction directly proportional to its degree of urgency, not something to be proud of.

With Johns-Manville downsizing its operation, company officials and representatives from the Illinois Dept. of Natural Resources are apparently discussing the possible sale of this land as an addition to the Illinois Beach State Park. Although discussions surrounding this possible deal are in "preliminary stages" according to the Illinois DNR, (Waukegan News Sun July 17, 1997) it seems as though Manville officials, at this juncture, are willing only to sell the land.

Residents of, and visitors to Lake County Illinois deserve to know via public hearings and full disclosure the terms, conditions, effects and liabilities of any such sale or transaction.

Johns-Manville certainly has every right to try and "dump its dump," but never again should the American public be uninformed of details that may affect future generations, as was the case when thousands were exposed to life-threatening effects of asbestos exposure. Johns-Manville did spend several million dollars in an attempted clean-up of the site in 1988. However, the area is admittedly still not free of pollution. It now stands capped, and planted with surface vegetation.

"This 'open letter' serves as a plea to all parties involved; Johns-Manville, the Illinois Dept. of Natural Resources and public officials, keep Lake County citizens informed of all the details of this potential transaction. We have the right to know."

Press needs to be Democratic watchdogs

Lost amidst last week's Di-anamania was hard evidence our vice president is a felon. According to two memos by former White House staffer Harold Ickes, Al Gore and President Clinton were told the first $20,000 of any contribution Gore solicited would go into a "hard money" account to fund specific political campaigns. On Sept. 10 the New York Times reported the Democratic National Committee systematically converted "soft money" contributions for "party building" into "hard money" accounts. The Washington Post also reported that "several months ago" DNC counsel Joseph Sandler reviewed contributions to the DNC and concluded $80,000 were directly attributable to Gore and notified his attorneys of that fact.

Finally, it turns out that, despite repeated denials, Gore made dozens of fund raising calls from the White House and did NOT use his DNC telephone credit card. Al Gore repeatedly solicited "hard money" on Federal property with phone charges paid by the taxpayer-multiple felonies. The evidence also strongly suggests Gore engaged in many money laundering schemes to get around federal campaign contribution limits—more felony charges.

Despite this mountain of evidence (generated from reporters, not the Attorney General's "crack team of career professionals"), Janet Reno still won't appoint a special prosecutor for Gore (when all that is required is a "reasonable suspicion" laws have been broken). Where are those tribunes of the people, the media? Why don't they act on their own news reports?

They applauded when Reagan's National Security Advisor Richard Allen was driven from office for taking a watch from a foreigner, but are unconcerned about millions in illegal foreign contributions. Reagan's Attorney General Ed Meese and Labor Secretary Ray Donovan got no media sympathy when they were forced to resign and endure years of a special prosecutor, despite flimsy evidence later dismissed. Elliot Abrams lied one time to Congress in an attempt to save lives in CIA Nicaragua operations but was jailed anyway—the press shrugs off the fact that dozens of witnesses in the 1996 fundraising scandals have fled the country or exercised the Fifth Amendment. Chuck Colson, Nixon's aide, went to prison for taking one FBI file out of the White House, but Craig Livingstone, Hillary Clinton et al get a pass for misusing nearly 1,000 confidential FBI files.

It should be plain to everyone but the most rabid liberal partisan the "prestige press" in this country (except for the Wall Street Journal) has the same relationship to the Democratic party as Pravda did to the Communist party. They simply aren't up to the task of checking the excesses of a Democratic administration. The first term of the Clinton Administration killed the "one party" Congress. The second term is going to kill the "one (liberal viewpoint) media. Either we are going to get an alternative conservative press that will go after Democratic Administrations or we will never again elect another Democratic President in my lifetime.

MINDING YOUR OWN BUSINESS

Don Taylor

Business truth

An art critic once asked an art collector this question: "What is art?" The collector responded, "I can't explain it, but I know it when I see it." Some folks feel the same way about truth. They can't define it, but they know it when they hear it.

My dictionary defines truth as: "a judgment, proposition or idea that is true or accepted as true." Therefore, I offer to you some business ideas and judgments that I accept as truth. If you agree, you may wish to use them in your business operations or personal life.

These things are true

- If the speed of change (improvement) outside your business is greater than the speed of change (improvement) inside your business, expect to see hard times ahead. It is likely that in the future you will lose market share to competitors that react more quickly to customer needs and changing market trends.

- No one can take you out of business by cutting price if you become the low-cost provider. Stay focused on eliminating waste and reducing costs.

- Saying "I'm sorry," does not compensate your customers for frequent mistakes. Find and eliminate the cause of mistakes, then you'll not have to say I'm sorry at all. I'm not saying not to apologize for mistake—that still shows respect and good manners—I'm saying that eliminating the mistake does away with the need to say I'm sorry in the first place.

- If you don't know what is wrong, it is easy to propose a solution. Of course, it is very likely the solution won't solve the original, undefined problem.

- A business is like a milk stool: three legs are more stable than one or two. The three most important business legs (working principles) are honesty, knowledge and a desire to serve the customer.

- What you know is not as important as what you do. Recently, I conducted a workshop where a small-business owner evaluated the workshop with these words, "I already knew everything this workshop covered." I thought it might be interesting to visit this very knowledgeable person's store. It was a mess. You won't impress customers with what you know unless you put it into practice.

- Profit is not "the reason" we play the game of business, it is only a method of keeping score. We play the game to win customers, please customers and keep customers. Profit is the result if we play the game well.

- Truth from a cowboy business person: If you're going to shoot your mouth off, be sure you're riding a fast horse.

- The fewer people you tell about a new business idea the better. Secondary truth: Don't expect an objective response to your idea from you family or close friends.

- New products are like babies: more fun to conceive than deliver.

- Every business owner begins each week with the same number of usable hours. Some spend those hours wisely, other's don't. You can usually see the difference in the businesses.

- Three important business questions: What business are we in? What do we do that is most important? and Are we doing it well? Learn to answer these questions correctly and you can improve your business.

- Every customer comes to your

Geo-Karis, Link, Churchill featured at October Lake County Power Breakfast

State Senators Adeline J. Geo-Karis and Terry Link along with Illinois House Majority Leader Robert Churchill will address the Lake County Power Breakfast Wednesday, Oct. 1 at Midlane Country Club in Wadsworth. Geo-Karis, Link and Churchill will provide another update from Springfield along with a forecast of what we can look forward to from the Illinois legislature.

"We're excited that Rep. Churchill and Senator Geo-Karis are returning for another Power Breakfast," commented Lenny Khayat of Midlane Country Club. "We are also looking forward to hearing from Senator Link, who was just sworn in on Jan. 8, 1997."

Geo-Karis, the first woman to serve in Illinois Senate leadership, has represented the 31st Dist. since 1979. She has served Lake County in many capacities over the years, including a stint as Mayor of Zion (where she lives and where her private law is located) and as village attorney for Vernon Hills.

Link, a graduate of Stout State Univ. is Senator of the 30th Dist. He has been the chairman of the Lake County Democratic Party since 1992, is a member of the Lake County Foundation Board and vice-chairman of the American Heart Assn. (Waukegan-North Chicago Chapter).

First elected to the state legislature in 1982, Churchill represents the 62nd legislative district. He was elected House Majority Leader in 1995 after terms as Minority Whip, Assistant Minority Leader and Deputy Minority Leader. Churchill resides in Lake Villa along with wife Sandra and their three children.

The Lake County Power Breakfast is open to the public the first Wednesday of each month beginning at 7:30 a.m. at Midlane Country Club, who sponsors the program along with WKRS/WXLC Radio, the Lake County Chamber of Commerce, The Daily Herald and US Cable/TCI. US Cable/TCI will re-broadcast the Power Breakfast at 7 p.m. Monday and Wednesday evenings beginning Oct. 6. For more information and reservations, contact Midlane Country Club at 360-0550.

Domino's renews outstanding student program

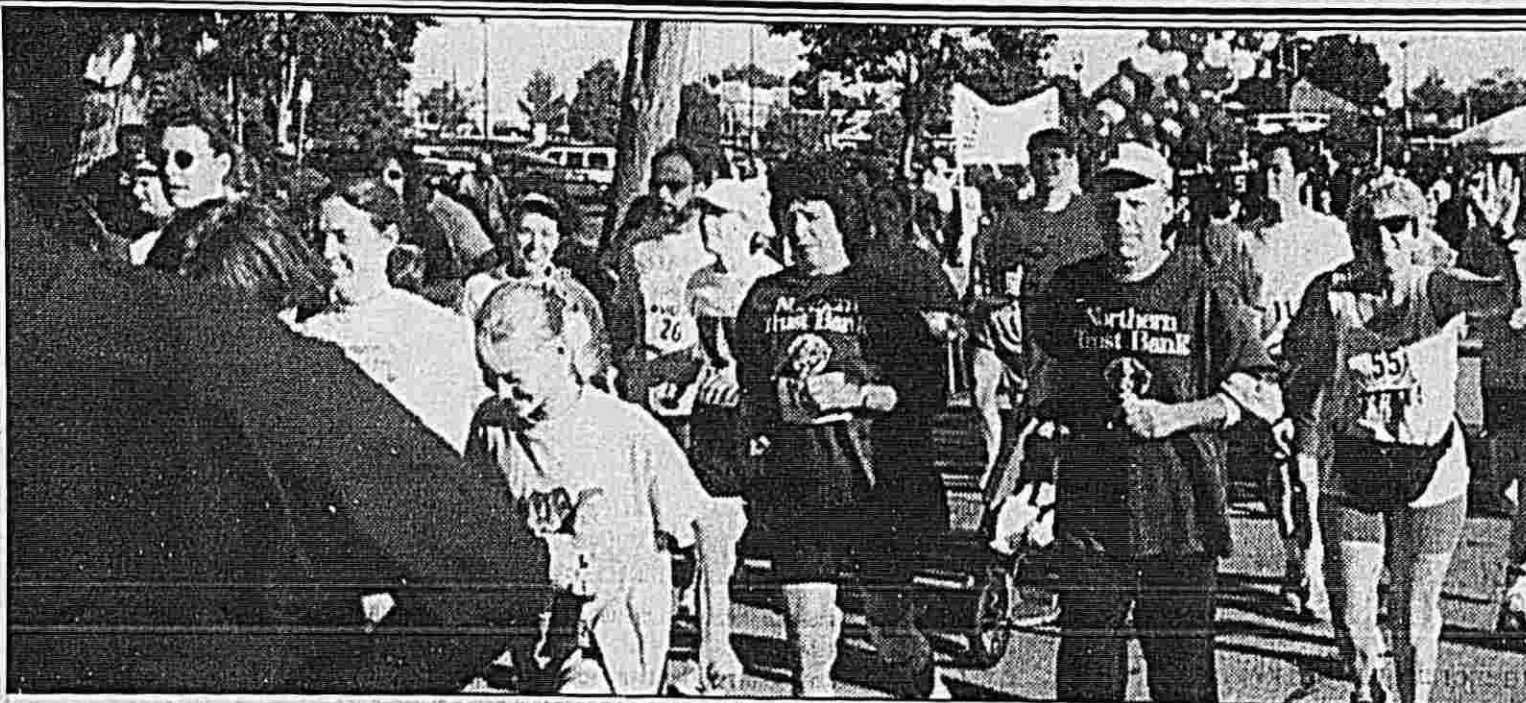

Two Lake County Domino's Pizza Franchisees announced the renewal of their Outstanding Student Program. The popular program recognizes students for their accomplishments during the course of the year. During the '96-'97 school years, the two franchisees worked with some 50 schools and recognized over 1,900 Lake County students.

"Domino's Pizza is extremely pleased to renew the Outstanding Student Program for the 1997-98 school year," commented Dan Shanahan, president of DDS Pizza Enterprises, Inc. "Quite frankly, we were very surprised at how enthusiastic the schools were about the program. And the students seemed equally excited. We could always count on them redeeming their certificates within a few days!"

"One of the reasons so many schools were eager to renew was that each school selected their own criteria for choosing winners," continued Steve Chiodo, president of Chiodo Corp. "Dan and I understand that each school is different so we try to offer as many choices as possible."

Chiodo operates the Domino's Pizza stores in Gurnee and Waukegan. Shanahan has stores in Antioch, Beach Park, Fox Lake, Grayslake, Libertyville, Mundelein, Wauconda, Zion and Kenosha, Wis. Both prominent franchisees have been extremely active in community programs over the years and combine more than 20 years experience with Domino's Pizza.

For more information on Domino's Pizza's Outstanding Student Program, contact Chiodo at 223-8388 or Shanahan at 625-0404.

The Centex Homes summer promotion at scenic Painted Lakes in Lake Villa is over, and two lucky winners have received a 19 1/2 foot Bayliner skiing boat with trailer valued at $14,000, and a pair of Yamaha Wave Runners with trailer valued at $12,000.

The winners are both residents of Painted Lakes. Sherry Julitz and her family won the ski boat, while the recipients of the wave runners are Ken and Gena Caffoe.

"We have never won a prize before, and we enjoy water sports so this is a perfect prize for us," said Ken Caffoe.

"Our new home at Painted Lakes is very convenient to the Chain O' Lakes so we'll get plenty of use out of the wave runners."

Sherry Julitz, a neighbor of Ken and Gena Caffoe, considers the ski boat the perfect finishing touch to her dream home at Painted Lakes.

"We were going to purchase a boat to go along with our new country lifestyle," said Sherry Julitz. "I was amazed when I was informed I was the winner, and even more delighted when I heard that my friends and neighbors were winners of the wave runners. This boat is a wonderful housewarming gift."

Painted Lakes is a picturesque 165-acre community which will include 134 townhomes and 218 single-family homes when complete. The single-family homes are further divided into two series, the Genesis Classic Series priced from $149,990 to $179,990, and the Genesis Heritage Series, priced from $188,990 to $214,990.

The summer promotion helped to celebrate the grand opening of townhome models at the community and was designed to highlight the resort area locations of Painted Lakes, according to Tony Albachara, division sales manager for Centex Homes.

"Awarding of the boat and wave runners was inspired by our proximity to the Chain O' Lakes, which has been a mecca for water sports enthusiasts since the turn of the last century," said Albachara. "We wanted to reinforce the advantage of living in an area with a quiet, uncongested quality of life, yet close to 17 lakes, 500 miles of shoreline and a 6,000-acre state park."

Bordered on one side by Sun Lake Forest Preserve, Painted Lakes enjoys a beautiful natural setting with more than 66 acres of wetlands preserve and open space winding through the community.

The rolling terrain and enhanced wetlands with shimmering ponds, wildflowers and landscaped berms ensure exceptional privacy with backyards looking onto open space rather than neighboring properties.

Painted Lakes is located on Deep Lake Road, approximately one mile north of Route 132 (Grand Avenue) in Lake Villa. Call 356-5420 for further information.

JAST Marketing opens its doors for business

JAST Marketing is a home based business owned and operated by local mother, housewife and community volunteer. Sherry Mikrut and her partner, husband, Tony Mikrut. JAST is a company committed to a debt-free America. They are also a member of the Round Lake Area Chamber of Commerce. JAST works as an independent consultant with Financial Independence Network Limited (FINL) offering information, seminars and consultations that teach how to eliminate debt.

According to the owners, "The average American worker will earn over a million dollars in his or her working life. However 96 percent of them will not achieve financial independence and this is based on federal government statistics." The company's best selling product at this time is the "Debt-Free and Prosperous Living Basic Course." The course offers a realistic approach to paying off your debt (eliminating not consolidating) including your mortgage in five to seven years using the money you already made.

The Mikrut's have been associated with FINL for many years. Before they began actively working as independent consultants the Mikrut's applied the program to their own lives. When they found out how well it worked they decided to share it with others. "We currently have a strong 1,000 plus customer base which is scattered from one coast to the other," Sherry says.

"Right now we are putting our focus on a local level. We will be sponsoring 'Get Completely Out of Debt' seminars, business orientation meetings and one on one debt elimination planning strategies throughout Lake County."

FINL is a 10 year old publishing company, located in Boscobel, Wis., that markets and distributes finance and small business books, newsletters, videos, audio cassette and computer software through independent consultants, such as JAST Marketing. In the past three years, FINL was twice selected to the prestigious Inc. 500 list, sponsored by Inc. Magazine.

It says: Please notice me. Please make me feel important. I'll be a good customer if you'll treat me well.

Sometimes an old-fashioned song
Brings us a thought of you;
Sometimes a flower as we pass along,
Or a sky that is azure blue;
Or a silver
lining in the clouds,
When the sun is peeping through.
All of these things, make us think of you.

How To Survive The Job Search
By Nancy Sakol

Dear Search,

I am anxious to hear your response to a situation I was faced with 2 weeks ago. It was no secret to some of my fellow employees at the (name withheld) company, that I did not get along with my supervisor. We have had this mutually "stay out of my way" attitude toward each other for sometime. With no place to transfer I had felt that it was time to move on. For a couple of months I had interviewed here and there but nothing appealing or hopeful. I found it difficult to find a company willing to stay late and interview me after hours since I was still employed and had already used up all my sick days and personal time off. I ran across a company that would only interview me during working hours, forcing me to come up with an excuse for coming to work late the day of the interview. I told my supervisor the day before that I had a doctor appointment and would be in around 10:30 that day. I was then told that I must bring in a doctor's note or receipt for services rendered. When I came to work the next day I was approached by my supervisor asking for the doctor excuse. I told her I didn't have one and she asked me in to her office where she immediately handed me my notice of termination for failure to provide required documentation as stated in company policy. Well, I left peacefully, however, I am mad as all get out. People are sick all the time there and never asked to bring a doctor's note. I feel as though I have been wrongfully terminated and am wondering whether or not you feel I should contact an attorney. Thank you for your time. A.D. - Lake Bluff

Dear A.D.,

Save your money and time! After being made aware of your company's sick day and personal day policy (which I may add is very standard), I believe your employer's decision was a valid one and clearly outlined in their employee handbook for which you may remember having signed for the first day of your employment. It may help you to understand the situation if you realize that by the 5th month of this year, you had already used up 1 full years worth of sick days and personal days. During that 5 month period you had also received written warning on two occasions regarding absenteeism. Your absenteeism was looked upon as being excessive and grounds for ineligibility for state unemployment compensation. My advice to you is to find a job where you can commit to working for 8 hours a day, making any and all personal appointments on your time, not company time. Remember, you may never "mesh" with every supervisor and co-worker you will have in your working career, but then again, you don't have to live with them for more than 8 hours a day. Your co-workers depend on you and you should make those 8 hours productive ones by being part of the team which includes being at work! Good Luck!

Note: Nancy Sakol is a licensed personnel professional and President of Superior Personnel in Gurnee.

The charm of the 2557 square foot Copperman is evident at first glance. An old fashioned covered porch along with a beautiful brick exterior create a homey atmosphere that is sure to attract appreciative glances. Walk up the steps into the vaulted entry and discover a floor design that makes very effective use of the available space.

The hallway, to the left of the entry, leads you to an exquisite master suite that projects outward from the rest of the house, giving you full view of the surrounding area and an assurance of privacy. Amenities here include a private skylit bathroom and a huge walk-in closet.

Directly across the hall, the nursery/office is situated where anxious parents can easily check on small children. Included are a generous closet and view window. Another full skylit bathroom, with linen storage, is in the hallway.

The living and dining area is situated across the hall from the kitchen and family area. The vaulted family room occupies the center of the floor plan. There is a built-in corner wood stove to keep you and your guests nice and cozy as you enjoy good company and discuss the events of the day.

The large, walk-in kitchen features a step-in pantry and a convenient eating bar, perfect for informal meals.

The remainder of this design incorporates three bedrooms, a mud room and a handy utility room, located near the door of the two-car garage. The mud room permits soiled shoes and clothing to be dropped off here before entering the main part of the home.

For a study kit of the COPPERMAN (336-090LP60) or a Dream Home Book, send $10.00, to Landmark Designs, 33127 Saginaw Rd. E., Cottage Grove, OR 97424 (Specify plan name & number for kit). POSITIONING THE BALL TOO FAR FORWARD OR TOO FAR BACK IN THE STANCE IS THE CAUSE OF MANY HOOKS AND SLICES. WHY?

SETTING THE BALL TOO FAR FORWARD FORCES YOU TO SWING ACROSS THE TARGET LINE FROM OUT TO IN. CONVERSELY, POSITIONING THE BALL TOO FAR BACK CAUSES THE CLUB TO MAKE CONTACT WHILE STILL SWINGING FROM THE INSIDE.
